

20-Gun Salute To 'Mom' for Serving Others

By JANE PUTNAM

The petite, gray-haired lady will make her rounds at Oak Knoll Naval Hospital in Oakland on Monday. She will darn, mend, sew on buttons for the patients—business as usual.

It is not a usual day, however; as the adjutant-general's office of the hospital pointed out to The Sun. "Mom" Bainbridge made her first trip to the hospital July 17, 1942, only a few weeks after it was opened.

FOR 20 YEARS, "Mom" has gone right into the wards to do what she could for her "boys". As a hospital official explained, "It's a little unorthodox"; but "Mom" doesn't know about government red tape. She simply sees what the boys need—and does it.

That Mrs. Margaret Bainbridge, 919 Bell Street, Lafayette, will celebrate her eighty-third birthday this December hasn't deterred her from duty.

If she doesn't do as much for the boys at Oak Knoll as she used to, it's because the number of patients has dwindled from the 20 beds on either side of the ward, during World War II.

"MOM" VISITS the naval hospital Mondays; the county hospital in Martinez, Tuesdays; the Oakland Veterans' Administration Hospital, Sundays (as a ride is available); the Pinebrook Rest Home, Dewing Road, every day; and as many shut-ins as possible during the week.

Many of the convalescents are years her junior.

"Mom" began her career of mercy when a call came from the naval hospital, then a few weeks old, for women volunteers.

"I came to see if I would like it," she said.

When, nearly 20 years later, she was asked if she didn't want to retire because of her years, "Mom" snapped: "I'm not going to quit until I have to."

So far, she has put together more than 250 afghans for wheel chair patients at veteran hospitals. Amputees are her favorite benefactors.

HER KNITTING projects have required more than 10,000 ounces of yarn. The local Kiwanis help her to gather the wool. Her afghans are displayed each year in the Plaza Cleaners' window, 3538 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Lafayette.

For years, one of the Lafayette Community Methodist Church's most untiring workers the church kitchen bears a plaque in her honor.

At Christmastime, the church bakes over 2000 cookies for "Mom" Bainbridge's boys. One year, when she was ill and unable to distribute the cookies, Mrs. George Madden (wife of Dr. Madden, now living in the Hawaiian Islands) took over "Mom's" job of supervising distribution.

AMONG HER many acco-

MARGARET "MOM" Bainbridge will celebrate, on Monday, 20 years of service to veterans' hospitals. The afghan on which she is crocheting will probably become the prized possession of an amputee. The 83-year-old Lafayette woman devotes most of her days to helping others. Sun photo by Bob Yost lades is a scroll which she dearsly treasures. Signed by 44 Boy Scouts, it reads in part: "The members of Troop 204, the troop committee and mothers club, in appreciation of your many years of outstanding service, your devotion to our group, and your unselfish interest in community matters, wish to present to you this scroll, making you an honorary life member of Troop 204."

A gold seal and a glen plaid ribbon give it an official air. Another commendation to adorn the wall of "Mom's" Bell Street bungalow is an award of merit from the Military Order of the Purple Heart.

The letter accompanying the award reads, in part: "In the behalf of the Military Order of the Purple Heart . . . we want to thank you for your outstanding work that you have done at the Oakland Veterans Administration Hospital and at the Oak Knoll Naval Hospital . . ."

"YOUR SMILE and happiness that you have given to our yet confined soldiers and sailors and veterans have no equal anywhere. We all think of you as the great little mother, which, believe me, means so much to our boys who are away from home. Your smile and sweet talk are simply the best tonic any man could wish for. We could write a book about you and all your wonderful accomplishments. To put it in just a few words to us, my dear, you simply are grand and wonderful."

"MAY THE GOOD Lord always bless you with much health and much happiness, as you so worthily deserve. Thanks for all your books and wonderful things that you have given to our boys, but most of all for you."

"God be with you always." "Mom" has had her share of personal heartbreaks, although she doesn't dwell on it. She lost her husband in 1910; her daughter, Doris, in 1954; and a granddaughter, Bonnie.

HER SON-IN-LAW, Don Blackwood, of Lafayette, and his family are a great source of joy to "Mom." Her grandchild, Bonner, is a senior at Alacalanes High School.

The only woman to be voted Lafayette's "Man of the Year", she has lived here 23 years.

"Mom yesterday walked into The Sun office carrying a large grocery bag.

"How did you get here?" I asked.

"Why, I walked," she said.

"How many blocks?"

"I never think of blocks, I just go!"

Board Considers Tighter Ammo Sales Ordinance

A proposed regulation restricting the sale of ammunition to children under 18 is under consideration by the County Board of Supervisors.

Purchase of cartridges by minors without the written consent of their parents would be prohibited by the proposed amendment to the county ordinance code.

At the suggestion of Supervisor Edmund Linscheid of Pittsburg, the proposal was referred to the public protection committee for study and a recommendation.

LINSCHIED POINTED out that "according to state law, a youngster can obtain a hunting license when he is 16."

"I would hesitate to approve this without hearing the opinions of the various gun clubs and hunting organizations."

The ordinance was drawn up by District Attorney John Nejedly at the request of the board. They will decide on it within the next few weeks.

In other action, there were no bidders for the county's piece of property at Willow Pass Road and Contra Costa Highway, open for a minimum bid of $15,000.

THE PROPERTY was left over after relocation of Willow Pass Road, James Fears of the county right of way division said the property had one liability, access is allowed at only one point.

A request by the animal control center to raise its daily fees for boarding dogs was approved. New fees for dogs kept at a center will be 80 cents daily instead of the old 25 cent charge.

Supervisors approved a map for an Orinda-Lafayette area subdivision of 43 lots owned by the Silverwood Development Company, Lafayette.

They also approved a grant agreement with the Federal Aviation Agency providing for a federal contribution of $94,758 for the construction of a taxiway and parking apron at Buchanan Field. Construction for the work was recently awarded to the Martin Bros. of Concord, for $145,316.

Pleasant Hill residents are already protesting the size of their station and its parking area, while a group from Reliez Valley is objecting to the route through the Lafayette zone.

Oakland's Mayor John C. Houlihan pointed out to one of the councilmen who objected to the plan that the supervisors were not endorsing it when they voted in the affirmative—"they

Last year's tax for 3-B zone was 14.5 cents per hundred. This year it has been pegged at a flat 14 cents.

The total county budget is $8,033,807, which includes 83 other special districts. This is down more than $1.5 million from last year.

Biggest fire budget item is $939,291 for the Central Fire District, with Mt. Diablo close behind at $910,408.

The proposed budget for 1962-63 is $1,780,667. Although last year's projected budget was slightly over $2 million, the actual and estimated expenditures as of June 30 amounted to only $376,791. This was due to delay in several projects pending federal aid.

Supervisors Pondering Rapid Transit Proposal

Rapid Transit got off to a slow start at the Contra Costa County supervisors' special hearing yesterday, with indication that it might drag over into a second day as The Sun went to press.

Several groups of citizens were on hand when the hearings finally opened about half an hour after the scheduled starting time. Most of them had some axe to grind, either asking changes in routing or protesting the lack of service to more suburban areas.

Contra Costa County supervisors must endorse the Bay Area Rapid Transit plan or it will die at this point. San Francisco supervisors already have given unanimous endorsement to the plan and the third participating county, Alameda, next Monday.

PAUL REVERE COWLES, consulting engineer, promised he would carry his one-man campaign to the Contra Costa County meeting. He had been submitting arguments against the plan in the form of open letters sent to Supervisor Mel Nielson.

Pleasant Hill residents are already protesting the size of their station and its parking area, while a group from Reliez Valley is objecting to the route through the Lafayette zone.

Planners to Study New Revised Moraga Plan

The opposition to Duffel-Smoother's $6 million condominium found an unexpected spokesman at the public hearing before the County Planning Commission Tuesday at 8 p.m.

A packed house in room 210 of the Hall of Records Building broke out in thunderous applause after Robert E. Cron Jr. stated: "If these units are permitted on this site it will be a classic example of spot zoning at its worst."

THIS REMARK concluded his objection to the condominium, proposed to be built on 20 acres adjacent to Miramonte High School. Cron stated that he spoke as a resident of Diablo View Estates, opposite the proposed site, and not in his professional capacity as associate research engineer of the Institute of Transportation and Traffic Engineering for the University of California.

Cron was the second of six speakers to address the planners in regard to the recommended revision of the Moraga General Plan, second item on the agenda.

A TECHNOLOGICAL research facility to occupy 120 acres was recommended on the condition that strict controls were maintained.

The recommendations drawn by a special 13-member committee appointed by the commission two years ago, include elimination of all administrative office and controlled manufacturing designations.

The planners set July 24 for an open study session in which to consider the proposals. They will take under further study Alternate Plan A and Alternate Plan B, drawn by the study committee appointed by the planners two years ago.

AUGUST 7, at a closed hearing, the plan will again appear on the planners' agenda for a decision.

The condominium, third item on the agenda, was discussed from the floor when Joe Smoot, partner in Duffel Smoot Companies, said, "We agree fully with the study group's recommendation but we can understand that they will want to go over this. We want to have our application for rezoning heard as early as possible."

IT WAS MOVED, seconded and unanimously approved by the planners to study the condominium in the study session of July 24, and to also tentatively put it back on the agenda for the closed hearing, August 7. The study session will be public, but not open for comment from the floor.

The sudden closing of the condominium hearing left the Ranchitos, a community group representing 100 homeowners in the Ivy Drive area, without giving a prepared statement of opposition.

Erskine Caldwell, Noted Novelist, Moves to Moraga

Erskine Caldwell, best selling author, and his wife, Virginia, recently moved to the Moraga area. His mailing address is Post Office Box 397, Rheem.

Caldwell's two most famous novels are "Tobacco Road" and "God's Little Acre."

Mr. and Mrs. Caldwell move here from Nob Hill, San Francisco.

CALDWELL has lived many places since his birth in 1903 in Coweta County, Ga. His birthplace was so small that it didn't have a name.

The paperback of "God's Little Acre" sold over 20 million copies.

"RARELY we live in one place more than six months," Caldwell once said.

He was once married to photographer Margaret Bourke-White.

In 1933 the Yale Review gave him a $1000 reward for fiction. During his diversified career, he has been a professional football player, cub reporter, seaman and editor.

DeMolay Paints

The Orinda bus depot was painted recently by the newly organized Orinda Chapter of the Order of DeMolay.

Materials for this project were partially donated by Lawler's Paint Store, Moraga Way, Orinda, and the Boy Scouts of Orinda.

The next project which the DeMolay has lined up is the painting of the rural mailboxes of every home in Orinda.

Review of Plan Asked

A petition for the restudy of the Orinda General Plan, with 61 signatures, was the basis for the county board of supervisors' referral of realtor Marian Pittman's rezoning back to the county planning commission.

The surprise action was taken at a public hearing of the board in Martinez, July 3 at 2 p.m. The petition was submitted by Edmund Barnett, attorney of the Walnut Creek firm, Barnett and Woods, in whose name the rezoning application is filed.

MRS. PITTMAN, owner of the acre in question, seeks to rezone the parcel from agricultural to multiple. It is located across from Pine Grove Intermediate School, and is next to the Masonic Auditorium on Altamira Way.

On May 22, the planners voted 6-1 to recommend a denial of Mrs. Pittman's request.

The Orinda Association took a strong stand against the rezoning on the basis that it constituted spot zoning and was against the basic concept of the Orinda General Plan.

ASSOCIATION President Eric Nielson expressed the views of his group in a letter which was sent today simultaneously to the board and to the planners. The text of the letter is on page 2.

"The association is shocked and seriously deplored the action of the board for not supporting the planners and for not being requested by the petitioners for four reasons. These are, they assert, as follows:

1. THE PLANNERS announced May 22 that though "request" uses might be compatible with existing uses, . . . no rezoning of any particular piece would be favorably considered unless a considerable segment of the community requested a restudy" of the plan.

2. THE GENERAL Plan is no longer soundly applicable in view of the changes in the community and existing land uses.

3. THE PLANNERS themselves said at the May 22 hearing that present agricultural and single family residential zoning is no longer proper.

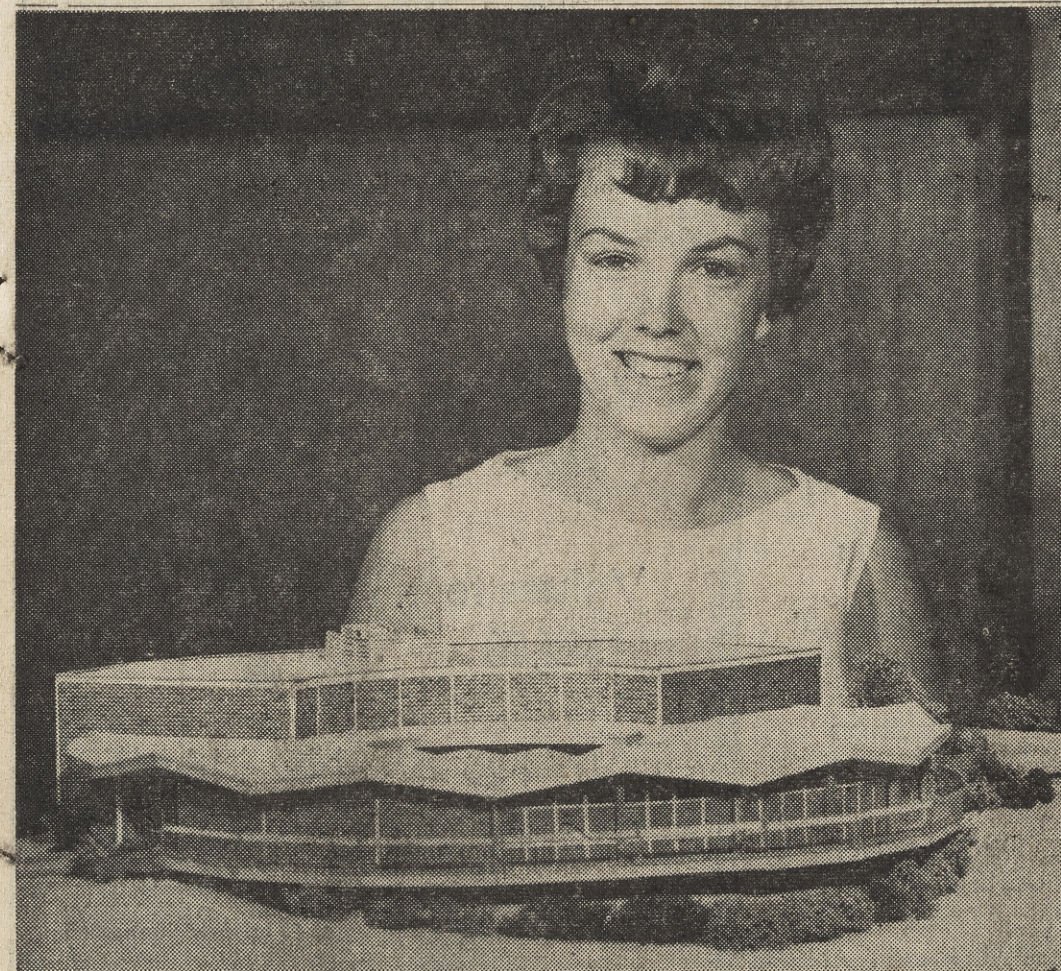

4. THE GENERAL Plan doesn't now reflect good planned rezoning the Pittman rezoning request," said Richard Bartle, chairman of the association's planning committee.

The restudy of the Orinda General Plan, adopted July 7, 1959, zoning, and it is in "the interest of public welfare that the same be restudied, modified and uses permitted as changed."

"Orinda should be zoned and ready for use," said Byron Nelson, Orinda realtor, who, with Mrs. Pittman, circulated the petition.

"In that way, people could ascertain what property is good for and can be used for, and newcomers to the area could determine, by consulting the plan, whether a piece of property would suit their requirements," Nelson said. "The way things have shaped up, spot zoning is inevitable with the current plan."

MODEL MUSIC may come from this music model. It's the artist's conception of the new $340,698 music building currently being erected at Diablo Valley College. The 24-sided polygon will have an open air inner court and is being held by Linda Ann Barnes, DVC records clerk.

Suburbia Scribblings

By MARIE MONAHAN

All Quiet on the Western Front . . .

THE FOURTH around here was about as noisy as a bowl of Rice Krispies—Snap, Crackle, Pop were the sounds more prevalent than the infrequent bursts of Boom & Bang.

Park Pool's Perennial Peg Kirby forgot about her hat & puzzled sometimes when the gay crowd asked her if she was "all set to go off" . . . Her straw hat was presented to her, decorated by Becky Johnson, w/a bright red fake firecracker rising up from the top . . . but in the midst of the day's din, she forgot about the hat's trimming . . . & you can't blame her.

LONG MAY SHE WAVE, the American Flag, & there were more flags flying this year than ever before . . . The Heffernans, for instance, on Moraga Way, fly their EVERY day . . . & Inez & Bill Maeshner's new Old Glory looked Grand & has been out standing guard at their driveway every day since . . . It looks wonderful!

The biggest banner around was the one rising from the Brooks' mailbox on Canon Drive . . . & Les Rowe was out early to get theirs up first in the neighborhood. Adding a Mt. Vernon touch to their handsome homestead was the Stars & Stripes unfurled from the Fords' house on El Toyonal . . .

Summer time & holidays bring all kinds of assorted & ill-assorted house guests & we literally had "stars in our eyes" & a few stripes, too, after a sleepless night over our guest. Our daughter's horse bunked down the backhill & got loose twice, pruned quite thoroughly the old apricot tree & that's not all.

A CAPTIVE Audience around the Sam Ballards' son Deke at Orinda Park where he saluted the day w/a few realistic noises from a novelty cannon . . . Then there was the annual procession up the hill to take in the fireworks from the vantage point of Skyline & Grizzly Peak. The braver souls armed w/blankets & thermoses, wended their way to Marina or the shores of Merritt.

THE HAPPY SOUNDS of smaller children (bless 'em) satisfied w/sparklers in their patios or yards . . . & the occasional boom & roar as somebody lit an illegal firecracker high in the hills.

PICNIC TABLES at a premium at Orinda Park w/the Brymases, Jacksons, Brays, Smiths, Cummings, Bottlers, Popenneys, Hales, Loughmans & Roberts some of those pooling their resources as well as their potato salads.

SHADES of the Old Days: We saw the Ted Howes family taking off for Cazadero by the dawn's early light w/a little red, white & blue flag flying from the car's radio antenna. A family reunion for breakfast in the mountains started their high-flying day!

Yankee Doodle-Style . . .

A REAL Yankee Doodle celebration, surprise-style, for Canning Company exec Gennaro Filice who was feted by friends & family w/a big barbecue B'day Party. Everyone came in costume ("Come as your impression of Gennaro," Mae Merle's invite offered) . . . & Joyce Carter turned up as an Angel wearing a halo w/a sign that said "No" . . . There were guests dolled up in drums representative of cans of fruit, soup, etc.; another couple in a double donkey costume & an assortment of original ideas . . . Helping w/the Fireworks here were the Joe Downses, Jim Reads, Art Lundblads, Art Comerfords, Bill & Jane Calhoun, Mike & Jean Filice, Max & Jean Wilcox, the Frank Walkers among the local guests.

PROSPECTIVE Stock Club members are the Sig Milfords who are expecting their first next month . . . & the Schnuggs still haven't run out of names. They just got around to Thomas Jeffrey for their 12th & newest addition!

COUNTRY CLOTHESLINE: All Red, White & Blue like a feminine Yankee Doodle Dandy was Bobbie Rieser who'd been rooting her tennis-playing sons all week at the Berkeley Tennis Club's Pacific Coast Tournament . . . Her straw sailor was be-ribboned in red, white & blue streamers, her dress was red, white & blue & brass-buttoned & from her arms jangled red, white & blue bangle-bracelets. There isn't another combination of colors that go together better than those U.S.A. three!

Stepping out of his vintage black El Salle (it was wearing a "For Sale" sign), we saw Bob Clifford who, minutes later, was surrounded by an audience around Lucky's Village store. Sitting on Bob's gloved hand & wearing sturdy leash was his very mild-mannered & calm broadwinged falcon whose name we didn't catch . . . At any rate, the bird has been a pet since Bob extricated it from its nest at about the age of five days. Here, Jewel Patten, Gretchen Howe, Bobbie Rieser, myself & son Chip fired away the questions at Bob who finally bid us Goodbye to shop for his falcon's dinner—beef heart, liver, etc.

LEAVE IT to my kids to spot the SUN ad advt. two peacocks MIT eggs. Enough is enough, we said . . . We've got enough problems w/pets. But a visit to the Alameda County Fair at Pleasanton almost softened us for the moment. A real treat to see the prize Livestock . . . & the rosy-cheeked country kids & 4-Hers showing off their pet pigs, lambs, pigeons, etc. Parking is $1.00 most anyplace but try two blocks up on the tree-shaded streets (drop the kids & the picnic lunch off first) & you'll save that buck to blow on something else. Do go early for the most pleasant part of the Fair is the mid-morning Pleasanton temperature. Not so, mid-afternoon, when everybody, incl. the picnic lunch, begins to sag.

TWO regal white peacocks & choice African & Indian birds were only part of the wonderful Fur & Feather Pageant . . . The talents of the Hinterlands-Hausfraus are on display in the exhibit hall & nothing matches the pantry-shelf prettiness of jewel jars of preserves . . . or the wonder of a well-made patchwork quilt, braided rug or the good old-fashioned art of crocheting & embroidery. An excellent art exhibit here for outdoor-viewing, a small garden show . . . & to think it was all bypassed by the MOBS that showed up for the afternoon horseracing.

ON THE MOVE . . . Last week, the George Merriams moved their last load of lures & penates to their posh new home in Atherton . . . The Joe Valencias (former owners of LaVal) have taken over the Merriam Tarry Lane latches . . . The Dr. Paul Slattery's are moving into the former Telfer home on Oak Arbor Rd. Easy Does It!

Sightings: NO AWFUL WAFFLES for the bunch that gathered BYOB-style (Bring Your Own Batter) at the Park Pool for a community waffle breakfast last Sunday . . . One of the families, the Bert Waynes w/Barbara serving notice that she & dgtrs. two were off to Seattle & a stay on the shores of Olympia, just a breath away from the World's Fair—Bert will join them later.

Marian Seim Erikson, who's an ardent Scandinavian sailress aboard Norwegian Freighters (a delightful way to travel) has shown her husband Ernst that this is the life: BOTH enjoyed a recent leisurely trip to Seattle by sea & a brief look at the Fair.

THE KIND OF Friend to have is Leona Wilson who not only brought Cindy to choose one of our kittens, but saved the Summer for us by finding homes for the other two. At the 11th hour, too.

Family of the Week

THE MIKE RICH FAMILY

From left: Mickey, 8; Mr. and Mrs. Rich; Marty, 15; Carol Lou, 17, and Kathy, 10.

Rock Hound Riches

ALL KINDS of interests and hobbies abound in the family of Mike and Louise Rich, but shown here gathered around a rock and stone polisher is some give-away that rock-hounding is something they all revel in for complete relaxation.

When they want to get away from it all, a sandy beach or a rocky cliff is an ideal place to pursue this pleasure, and there's always time for a swim, picnic lunch, lazy nap before the trip home with their beachcombing treasures.

Mike, a part owner of Berkeley Motors, Lincoln and Mercury dealer, was born in Samoa, grew up in Southern California. Schooled in the Bay area, he moved his family to Orinda and their home on Scenic Drive from a long residence in Kensington, Berkeley. There he served as president of the Kensington Dads Club.

He is a member of the Berkeley Kiwanis and president of the Armstrong Alumni Association.

HIS talented wife, Louise, is a lady of many interests. Her most recent undertaking is watercolor landscapes, under the expert tutelage of local prize-winning painter Bob Jensen.

Louise, who likes to do "everything," is a green-thumb gardener. She is proud of converting a previous "eyesore" in her garden into the most lush bit of tropicana flourishing with begonias, fuchsias, orchids and ferns. These bloom profusely under the deck of this tropical niche. Friends constantly chide her to "give parties there."

She delves in mosaics, her recipe file reads like an international of Gourmet (everything from Mexican, Southern, New England to Japanese—the latter she learned from her friend, Rena, wife of architect Roger Lee) and she and Mike specialize in entertaining for large groups, mixing recipes from all places into one most magnificent meal. This is Louise's reputation as a culinary artist, but friends laud her landscapes, too, and she is a member of Oakland Artists' Association, the Valley Art Center and a former member of Orinda Woman's Club.

DAUGHTER Carol Lou, 17, who will enter U.C. at Davis in the fall, is an excellent swimmer and has served the local Red Cross by helping with their swimming for the Handicapped Therapy program for the past two years. Right now, she's high on the diving board practicing to perfect her backward flips.

Tennis with his father is the favorite sport of Marty, 15. Kathy, 10, and Mickey, 8, are members of the swim team at Meadow pool and participate in the summer swim program at Miramonte pool.

THE FAMILY'S summer trip usually means trailering around the country in search of places to indulge in their rockhounding.

This year they'll give the rock polisher a rest while they make a flying trip to the Seattle World's Fair.

Planners Study Moraga Plan and Condominium

the Ranchitos, will file their protest by letter with the Board of Supervisors and the planners.

WARREN MERRILL, Ranchitos president, stated that they are hopeful the letter will be included in material for the study session. It will appear in The Sun next week.

Boone Robinson, a planner, chairman of the study committee, which framed the plans, expressed disappointment that no decision was made.

AFTER TWO years of study, he felt that they were close to reaching a plan. Copies of the study committee's recommended Alternate A and Alternate B plans were sent to the planners the Friday before the public hearing.

Bestor Robinson, lawyer for the Utah Construction Company, owners of the undeveloped land under discussion, said: "It is a matter of give and take. There is a necessity of finding a reasonable base for adjustment . . . the ideas of professional planners, ideas of residents and ideas of owners and stockholders, who have some rights as property owners still."

BESTOR ROBINSON, who served on the study committee, said that under instructions from Utah Construction, "We are willing to accept and live with the proposed compromise."

Other speakers were Robert Amber and Dr. Lee Nelson, members of the study committee; Vincent Maher, an appraiser who lives in Diablo View Estates, and Derwood E. Coleman of the Orchard Dell district, Moraga.

A breakdown of the changes in the present plan for the 12,335-acre community is as follows, with proposed acreages in parentheses:

SINGLE family residential—7705 acres (7987 acres); multiple family residential—85 acres (46 acres); commercial—98 (89); administrative office—54 (0); controlled manufacturing—289 (0); scientific-technological research center—0 (120); public and quasi-public community center—38 (27); St. Mary's College—400 (400); regional parks—3576 (3576); community parks—70 (0); Burton shopping center—20 (0).

Returns to Civilian Life

Lieutenant Daniel J. Leehane of Orinda will return to civilian life after having served nearly a year's active duty with the 22nd Transportation Company as a platoon leader.

The unit is one of the National Guard units called to duty during the Berlin crisis last October. Leehane was one of the officers recalled to bring the unit to full strength.

The unit has undergone extensive training during its stay at Fort Ord and Camp Roberts, California, and successfully completed its Army training test in January with the highest possible scores.

Pittman Apts., General Plan Is Letter Topic

President Eric Nielsen of the Orinda Association sent the following letter to the county board of supervisors and the county planning commission today:

"THE ORINDA Association is disappointed in your action of July 3 in connection with the rezoning application of Mrs. Marian Pittman.

"Multiple family use of this property would be completely incompatible with the established character of the Orinda community and the rezoning was vigorously opposed by the association.

"THE PLANNING commission decisively rejected the rezoning application and the board of supervisors should have upheld the commission by doing likewise.

"We believe, however, that some benefit to the community may yet result from your action in asking for a general plan review, even though that action was taken for the wrong reason.

"General plans should be reviewed periodically, and the law provides for annual reviews. Our objection is that this general plan review was called for in connection with this specific application.

"THE ADVANTAGES of an objective review of planning a community development goal which can result from a re-examining the general plan will be obscured, and possibly lost entirely, if the emphasis is on a single parcel, and a single use proposed for that parcel.

"Our hope is that the general plan can be reviewed objectively and dispassionately, without the reviews becoming simply an attempt by one owner or a group of owners to justify a profitable or inappropriate land use.

"THE GENERAL plan review ordered by your board offers the people of Orinda an excellent opportunity to reaffirm their belief that Orinda should be a low density residential community.

G&L School Site Is Discussed

G&L Investment Corporation will be asked to appear before a meeting of the joint boards of trustees for the Orinda Union School District and the Martinez Elementary District, it was decided Tuesday night.

The two boards met at 7:30 p.m. in Martinez to discuss the future school facilities in G&L's 365-acre proposed development in Sleepy Hollow.

Representing the Orinda district were Superintendent Joseph L. Sheaff, Board President J. Gordon Ainsworth and Victor Kingston, chairman for the school building committee.

Although the subdivision is located in the southernmost part of the Martinez and Alhambra school districts, it is adjacent to the Orinda district.

The boards discussed the possibilities for acquisition of the site by the Martinez-Alhambra jurisdiction and probable eventual transfer to Orinda.

The engineering firm of Leiptein, Cronin and Cooper, employed by the school boards, reported on four possible sites.

As G&L has not yet appeared before the boards, they want to arrive at some understanding as to "G&L's willingness to go along with the possible location of a school."

Hats Off To...

Four Orinda Roundup Camper Senior Scouts

BALMY NIGHTS, a sky full of stars (Vermont-style) and campfire camaraderie, please, for the four local senior scouts who will join the Diablo Valley Area group of 16 to represent our area at the 1962 Girl Scout Senior Roundup, July 18-31, in Vermont.

Janet Jones, assistant patrol leader, and Judy Swanson, who'll do duty as a photographer, will set up their camp with the Diablistas ("Little Devils," feminine gender) and tenting in the Puitas patrol will be Leslie Smith, who'll be press correspondent, and Roberta Nichols, first-aid and song leader. (Puitas were spirits from the Diablo mountains who inspired the Indians to victory.)

ALL MIRAMONTE students, juniors Janet, Judy and Leslie and Roberta, a senior, have been training for this exciting venture since last fall and are just about set for the All Aboard Sunday, by special Scout train, for the cross-country trip to the shores of Lake Champlain. There they'll camp with 10,000 Girl Scouts, 14 through 17 years, from all the 50 states of the Union and U.S. possessions and will be joined by nearly 200 Girl Guide Rangers (equivalent of Senior Scouts) from approximately 20 countries.

OUR Girls have their new tents decorated with "devils" and the "mountain." They have shiny new patrol boxes, tableware, canisters, and their charcoal stoves are equipped with ovens for their want to experiment with cake baking.

THE ROUNDUP CAMPERS will live in tents, cook their own meals, do their own cleanup and still find time to participate in youth forums, discussions, folk dancing, singing and the traditional "swapping." Each girl will bring to Roundup small items representative of her community to "swap" with other girls and the Diablistas & Puitas are all set with theirs—red chenille devils with trefols for tails—and California redwood triangles wood-burned with saucy Satans.

Janet, Judy and Leslie are members of Mrs. Ann Swanson's Troop No. 156 and Roberta Nichols is a Marine Scout in Troop No. 61 under Mrs. Alyson de Laveaga's leadership.

OUR LOCAL Diablo Valley Area Girl Scout Council is privileged to send two patrols of eight girls each. At the Roundup, each patrol will become part of a troop made up of four patrols from four different parts of the country.

To the Orinda foursome whose two patrols have drawn their names from the early Indian and Spanish heritage of Contra Costa County, we bid Bon Voyage, Hasta La Vista, Happy Camping and send up a few smoke signals with the message—"Keep the postcards coming—"

Sanitary District Woman Assailed In Bus

Contra Costa Sanitary District directors are considering a tentative budget of approximately $787,000 for maintenance and operation during the coming fiscal year.

Revenues are expected to be about $223,000, with the balance to be made up through taxes. Because of increases in assessed valuation, officials expect the tax rate to be reduced somewhat during the coming year. The current rate of about 64 cents also includes bond issue retirement.

The district also is completing plans for extension of the San Ramon Valley trunk sewer on beyond Kelley Road, south of Danville to San Ramon.

Anderson on Patrol

Donald M. Anderson of Orinda was a member of the patrol that has just returned from an eight-day international wood badge training course at Shaver Lake, in the Sierra.

The patrol was made up of seven members of the Mt. Diablo Boy Scout Council, and one man from San Francisco.

A woman bus passenger bound from Walnut Creek to San Francisco was the victim of an apparently unprovoked attack by another passenger last Thursday.

Mrs. Julianne Newcomb, 42, of 1209 Lindel Drive, Walnut Creek, told sheriff's deputies a man seated behind her on the bus began hitting her over the head with a heavy object when the vehicle stopped at the Orinda freeway bus depot.

When she grabbed his hand, Mrs. Newcomb said her assailant ran out of the bus, still carrying the object with which he had struck her, and disappeared near Orinda Village shopping center.

Mrs. Newcomb continued on to meet her husband in San Francisco. She later was examined and released at the Kaiser Foundation Hospital in Walnut Creek.

Election on Courts Favored by McBrien

An election should be held to decide if the county's courts should be consolidated, said County Administrator J. P. McBrien this week, agreeing with the County Grand Jury's current report.

McBrien's review of the grand jury report and recommendation was referred to the board of supervisors public protection committee for further study.

The grand jury recommended that the four municipal and 13 justice courts be consolidated into three municipal and three justice court districts.

THE BOARD of Supervisors must act on the recommendations within 30 days after the empaneling of the new grand jury.

A request for a new auditing method in the medical program, designed to help eliminate fraud was deemed worthy of further study, McBrien said.

He recalled recommendation for an increase in the staff of the Social Service department "questionable."

The suggestion on the courts was made originally in 1960 by the State Judicial Council. California Chief Justice Phil S. Gibson said the merger would save the taxpayers about 150,000 a year.

McBRIEN RECOMMENDED later consolidation into a single, countywide municipal court district with departments where they are needed to handle the workload.

The whole movement was stopped last November, at least temporarily, when supervisors voted 3-2 against placing the issue on the ballot.

McBrien also agreed with the recommendation for establishing a new county jail to meet state standards.

Retirement Association To Invest in Mortgages

The County Employees Retirement Association will invest 2 million in guaranteed FHA and VA first mortgages to be serviced by the Bank of America, according to Benjamin O. Russell, association secretary.

The decision was reached at a special meeting Monday. The retirement board had previously authorized investment of $320,000 in such mortgages.

THE ADDITIONAL funds will be derived from the sale of approximately $1.7 million in municipal bonds that are approaching maturity. Sale of the bonds is necessary in order to realize capital gains and to permit the money to be reinvested in the mortgages, said board chairman Marvin King who did the special study that led to the decision to switch to mortgages.

King said the returns on the $2 million investment would be 5.245 per cent, considerably higher than the yield in Triple A municipal bonds.

Reinvesting the bond money instead of letting them come to full maturity could mean a profit of $280,000 or more for the retirement fund, he estimated.

King, an assistant county administrator, has been on the retirement board since 1945.

To Open at Playhouse

July 20 will mark the opening of the Dramatours' summer play at the Town Hall, Lafayette. Curtain time will be 8:30 p.m. Truman Capote's "Grass Harp" will run six weekends starting from the July 20 opening night on both Friday and Saturday evenings.

General admission tickets may be reserved by calling CL 4-5241 days and CL 4-4419 evenings after six. The audience may meet and chat with the cast after the play in the Green Room, with refreshments available.

Ticket block price reduction can be arranged with Mrs. Fran Lobensels by phoning AT 3-6625.

New Jury, Old Reports Announced

Five central county residents were chosen on the new grand jury panel. They will replace the 1961-62 grand jury discharged by Superior Judge Hugh Donovan.

Included among the 19 new jurors headed by Foreman Ed J. J. McKeegan of Richmond, are: Benjamin C. Shaul, Concord; Lewis A. Penn, Walnut Creek; Edward W. Thompson, Danville; Robert Kahn, Lafayette, and Mrs. Virginia C. Brooks, Orinda.

The full report by the former Grand Jury was presented last week by its foreman, Sven Anderson. He decried the fact that grand juries in general seem to be losing their traditional strength and are not used as much as they might be.

TALKING ABOUT a "drift toward paternalism in government," Anderson said, "The experience of this jury and the other grand juries of the State of California support the observation that centralizing political power erodes the local will."

He said the problem is not apathy, but "a progressive withdrawal of the thinking, responsible citizen from the arena of tension."

"The respectability of arm-chair discussion should give way to realistic accountability by involvement in the dust of conflict," he added.

ANDERSON also emphasized the danger of "hard core pornography literature" in the preface to the annual report which contained the findings and conclusions of the 10 jury committees.

Noting that the group had made a study of alleged pornography literature, he said, "There is no question regarding the harmful implications of such written materials in the hands of young people whose home training has been inadequate, particularly vulnerable."

He added that the jury felt the best control of such matter would be done by local "responsible citizenry."

CITIZENS of the local community should be sensitive to the materials available and take such actions as may be necessary to remove obscene writings from the sources of supply," he concluded.

Other members of the panel of 19 include: W. D. Allyn, J. W. Aubrey and Elmer Garibaldi, all of Richmond; Conchita C. Coray, Pittsburg; Thomas Sheehy, El Cerrito; Joan Haber, Kensington; William M. Caudel, Poet Chicago; Lorraine D. Laird, Louis Martin and Walter L. Moffatt Jr., Brentwood, and Joseph Reis and Dr. R. E. Sandlin, both of Antioch.

Improved highway specifications, materials and techniques promise continually better roadways in California, according to a statewide group of highway builders, the Engineering and Grading Contractors Association.

Five Million Sales Figure For RE Board

Multiple listing sales recorded by the Contra Costa Real Estate Board for the month of June nearly hit the five million dollar mark, the highest in the history of the board, according to J. N. Smith, president.

A whopping $4,840,200 sales volume is reported for June, 1962, $1,369,991 more than June of last year. June's tally of sales volume brings the total for this year to $20,686,154 in multiple listing sales. This sum is nearly four million more than for the same period of 1961, Smith said.

Currently, there are 183 broker members and 687 salesmen of the multiple listing division of the Contra Costa Real Estate Board.

Realtors' multiple listing service is a new supermarket method of merchandising commercial, industrial, residential and land development properties.

Conti and Cartwright Party Heads

Sam Conti of Concord was re-elected Republican chairman and Gilbert D. Cartwright of Richmond was picked by the Democrats as the two county central committee heads their organizational meetings Tuesday night.

Only action aside from the naming of officers came from the GOP delegation which endorsed, unanimously, State Senator George Miller's resolution opposing creation of the California State Senate District. This measure would allow Southern California additional seats in the state senate.

Other new officers elected by the Republicans were: Roy Westman, Walnut Creek, vice-chairman for the 10th assembly district; Tom Riley, Richmond, vice-chairman for the 11th assembly district; Mrs. Ruth Young, Walnut Creek, women's vice-chairman; Jack Pedder, Lafayette, secretary, and Mrs. Mary Lowden, Richmond, treasurer.

Raymond P. Chapot, Martinez, was named vice-chairman of the Democratic Central Committee. Other officers are Mrs. Patricia Silva, Concord, administrative secretary; Mrs. Barbara Reid, Orinda, secretary, and Joseph Genser, Richmond, treasurer.

New Construction Inspection Law Hit by Industries

A new county building ordinance requiring inspections of industrial constructions was attacked by Contra Costa industries who turned out in force Tuesday at the meeting of the county board of supervisors to voice their protests.

The board, deciding not to change the ordinance which went into effect June 1, ordered a study to be made by a new committee made up largely of representatives of the county's heavy industries.

By keeping the disputed ordinance in effect, the board hoped to assure a quick report by the committee.

BUILDING INSPECTOR Rudolph Krantz, answering charges that his office was "empire building," said he was only trying to carry out his responsibilities.

"An impartial inspector is needed for industrial construction just as it is for residential and commercial building," he said.

Attack against the new ordinance was led by F. A. Hodges, of du Pont Chemical Company, Antioch, who is president of the Pittsburg-Antioch-Nichols Industrial Association.

He said that under the old ordinance, large industries which have their own engineers for inspections, have been exempted from the requirement for county inspections of such things as electricity, plumbing, heating and ventilation.

THE COUNTY would be duplicating the industries' work, causing an unnecessary expense for taxpayers and a hindrance to industries, he contended, including new ones proposing to locate in the county.

Another major concern of the industrialists seemed to be possible delays of construction waiting for the county inspector to come and check on work which may be continuously underway in some large plants.

Hodges pointed out that no one was claiming that the self-inspection was inadequate or resulted in violations of the state code.

HE REQUESTED a return to the 1953 ordinance until the matter is studied. Supervisor Edmund Linscheid proposed that the new ordinance remain in effect to get a quicker solution.

Supervisor Tom Coll suggested that the industrial firms select a five-man committee to meet by next week with Linscheid, Krantz and representatives of the county administrator, district attorney and public works department.

If any gross inequities are caused by the present ordinance, he added, relief can be provided by a board order.

Under the 1953 ordinance, buildings on a site of five acres or more, or in a company with more than 50 employees throughout the year were excluded from building inspections. Also excluded were buildings where owners maintained an internal inspection control, usually by an engineer, in order to comply with safety provisions and with the various state building codes.

KRAINTZ SAID earlier, after a meeting with several industrialists in Pittsburg last Friday, that he was surprised there was any problem at all about the new ordinance.

He noted that a majority of the industries in the county have taken out building permits in the past, even though not required to do so.

He gave as examples the Aerojet General Nuclear plant in San Ramon, the roofing plant at the Martinez Shell refinery and Ethyl Corporation construction.

To give a bathroom that warm and friendly look, some builders install western red cedar siding. Cedar will absorb much moisture without problems, but the paneling can be sealed front and back.

Young Protests Proposed Cuts In Personnel

Laboratory services to other police agencies in the county will have to be curtailed unless the sheriff's office requests for more help is not granted, Sheriff Walter Young told the county board of supervisors last week.

He asked the supervisors to determine from an outside survey whether its requests for additional help were justified.

The sheriff testified along with four other department heads to ask that men recommended by the board's finance committee for cuts be left in the budget.

AGRICULTURAL Commissioner Art Seeley asked for an assistant to co-ordinate five major programs, and for a weights and measures inspector to test pre-packaged products.

In a dramatic presentation to illustrate the need for such an inspector, Seeley brought in paint cans with shortages of almost one dollar's worth of paint, a package of ribbon containing 350 feet when it was marked 450, and a package of Christmas wrapping—allegedly worth one dollar that was actually short 62 cents, he said.

Saying the store owner is an innocent bystander, and usually the manufacturer is willing to improve packaging, Seeley said an inspector is needed to check on such products on retail shelves.

Also appearing before the supervisors was District Attorney John Nejedlik, requesting a supervisor of inspectors in his office, and Superintendent of Buildings E. A. Lawrence, who wants a second assistant custodian supervisor for a man now doing 93 hours a week in the county's 52 buildings.

CCC Sanitary District Cuts Tax, Hikes Pay

Board of Directors of the Contra Costa Sanitary District, at its meeting held on Thursday, reviewed the activities of the district for the past year and found that although district facilities have been expanded by approximately 10 per cent, the necessary funds for the operation of the district have been increased by less than 1 per cent.

1962-1963 will be reduced by approximately 5 cents from last year's rate. At the same time, the board found it possible to bring salaries of district employees into line with those of comparable agencies in the area.

Trapping is one of the oldest occupations of man, according to the National Automobile Club. It is much older than agriculture and probably even older than hunting and fishing.

defrosting is definitely out of style

Today's new refrigerator-freezers need no defrosting! Both compartments are free of frost! There's more space inside these beauties, too: thinner walls, better insulation and modern design allow much more storage space—50% or more—than models ten years ago. Extra space for family-pleasing foods you can buy at bargain prices and store for later use. So why not trade that old-fashioned "ice-box" for a stylish, no-defrosting refrigerator-freezer.

County Gets Motor License Fees Cut

Motor vehicle license fees amounting to $29,597,092 were apportioned among cities and counties throughout the state during the closing days of the 1961-62 fiscal year, State Controller Alan Cranston reported today.

Cranston explained that it was the third apportionment of the year and brought to $123,578,653 the total amount distributed among cities and counties from this source during the year. The total apportionment for the 1960-61 fiscal year was $119,003,304. The money is allocated on a population basis, half the total going to the cities and half to the counties.

Moraga Memo

By JANE PUTNAM

Friday, 13th and all's not well

THE TIMING wasn't good. Mrs. Charles Dull of Lafayette sent us a reprint of "Who Is Tampering With the Soul of America?" by Jenkin Lloyd Jones.

This jeremiad, written at the stomach-turning point, was an address to the Inland Daily Press Association. Now in its fifth printing, its popularity grows every day. (Copies are 10c each, or $1/dozen and can be ordered from Don Anderson, publisher, The Wisconsin State Journal, Madison, Wis.)

Jones is the editor of the Tulsa, Oklahoma, Tribune and a nephew of the late great architect Frank Lloyd Wright.

He charged all newspaper people to act as spokesmen for the jeremiahs in their community.

I will try not to be emotional.

STARTING THIS week or next, the first two of four more luxury garden apartments will be built on Donald Drive. When all four are completed, with the Duffel-Smoot luxury garden apartments across the street, there will be a total of 120 units of luxury garden apartments.

This will mean 120 additional luxury garden patios, and probably four luxury garden swim pools.

This is about as much high density luxury as one quiet street can take.

The Rheem California Land Company, which will keep careful control of the luxury garden plans, has sold the property. The "developers"—in the order in which the units will stand, from Moraga Way toward the Donald L. Rheem Elementary School—are: Lang Development Company, Pettibone Properties, Inc., Marlin Visel and Montclair Building, Inc., built by Merritt Construction.

Lang and Merritt will start first.

Will they first have to take down the large "fourplexes for rent" sign? As of today, there are 16 units yet unrented on the street.

The once proud "Parade of Homes" street is now "Apartment Alley." All of the financial statistics in favor of luxury garden apartments rolled into one cannot convince the people who live in the area that THIS is progress.

"CABINET OF CALAGARI" is at the Rheem Theater. The prevue brags of the fact that it has the impact of "Psycho." So if you want the kiddies to see a movie with the impact of "Psycho," don't let them miss it. There is a kiddie matinee Saturday.

There have been a rash of "crank" calls by kids this summer. One which was just reported to our office concerned a youngster who screamed to a Lafayette housewife: "There are hot wires down at the end of your street!"

Before the woman, who had children playing in the area, realized it was a "joke," she had some miserable moments.

Sick imagination? Where do they get such ideas? Bet that they'll get a few new ones from "Cabinet of Calagari."

Can the showing of such a movie be justified by saying that it's "good box office?"

FUEL TO THE PYRE: A member of the Moraga Valley Community Club who served on the Study Committee for two years with Bestor Robinson, lawyer for the Utah Construction Company, stated sadly at an open meeting Thursday night: "I'm not here to grind an axe against Utah; but they have never submitted a developmental plan . . . have an ethereal idea of what should go in . . . The developer here is only interested in making money . . . It seems to me, he can make money and still protect the community."

A humorous exchange in the meeting at Miramonte's cafeteria took place between planner George Reed and spectator Frank Hoover. In discussing the condominium, Hoover asked: "Why not restrict the apartments to no children?" Blushing, bachelor Reed said: "This isn't in the realm of a zoning restriction." Hoover cited an example of where such a "no children" restriction had been successfully carried out on the peninsula. Reed, turning beet red, said that it was undoubtedly not done by city ordinance. Hoover agreed: "It was done by gentlemen's agreement."

The Miramonte meet was hosted by the Moraga Valley Community Club to acquaint residents with Alternate A and Alternate B for the Moraga General Plan. Planner Reed said that the MVCC reps on the Study Committee had done "one of the best jobs I've ever seen at getting at the realities of this matter." (He was referring to Dr. Lee Nelson, Rex Collings, Robert Amber, Robert deJohn, Ted Sawyer, and Vince Young who have given countless hours to this project over a two-year period.)

RANDOM NOTES, QUOTES: "We aren't here to prevent anyone from making any money, we're here to protect the character of the community" . . . "Uncooperative attitude of the developer . . ." "An alert citizenry" . . . "No interest on part of developer in recreational facilities" . . . "A research facility was the pride and joy of Rexville" . . . "I was attracted to this community because it had only houses and open land" . . . "Rheem was smarter than Utah" . . . "Six months ago, when Utah gave Duffel-Smoot an option on the land adjacent to Miramonte, they told the study committee that north of the freeway, there wouldn't be any multiple."

The Study Committee, although the individual members were not all in favor of it, recommended Alternate A to the planning commission Tuesday night.

When a vote was taken at Miramonte, not one person voted in favor of Plan A. 22 voted in favor of a modified Plan A—including a 100-acre research center, excluding the condominium. 32 voted for Plan B—medium density residential.

THE BOSS is returning from his European junket next week, and I'll write a social column, like I'm s'posed ta. Is this what you meant, Mr. Jones?

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

Freedom from enslavement of every kind is available through spiritual understanding of the mighty power of God. This is the encouraging theme of the lesson-sermon entitled "God" which will be presented at Christian Science churches Sunday.

Bible readings will include this verse (Revelation 11): "We give Thee thanks, O Lord God Almighty, which art, and wast, and art to come; because Thou hast taken to Thee Thy great power, and hast reigned."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy this selection will also be read (p. 228): "The enslavement of man is not legitimate. It will cease when man enters into his heritage of freedom, his God-given dominion over the material senses. Mortals will some day assert their freedom in the name of Almighty God."

Christian Science churches are located at 3422 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Lafayette; 22 Orinda Way, Orinda; 2 Eckley Lane, Walnut Creek, and at the corner of Grant and Park streets, Concord.

LUTHERAN

The Rev. Albert S. Hidy Jr. will present the sermon, "God's More Than" at the Shepherd of the Valley Lutheran Church, 433 Moraga Way, Orinda, at the 9:30 a.m. service Sunday. Sunday school for children from pre-kindergarten through the fourth grade will be 9:30 a.m. also.

The Sunday school family picnic will be July 22 from noon on, at the Montclair Park in Oakland.

Daily Vacation Church School will be held August 20 from 9 to 12 a.m. All children in the area who are about to start kindergarten in the fall up through the ninth grade are invited to attend.

The theme is "God's Living Word". There will be projects to help the children better understand the relationship of science to God and His creation. They will have many experiences with the world of nature.

Through first hand experiences of the created world, through biblical expressions of wisdom, love, power and purpose of God, the child will be guided to a meaningful response to God in stewardship and worship.

Please register in the church office, CL 4-3422 from 9 to 12 a.m. weekdays as soon as possible so that we may better plan for teachers and materials.

High School Students Vacation in Classrooms

SUMMER SPANISH courses taught by Rolfe Williams, center, are one of the features of the audio-lingual foreign language instruction offered to district students. Geof Wright of Acalanes High and Helen Wintz of Del Valle are shown utilizing the modern instruction methods.

30% OF STUDENTS IN SUMMER SCHOOL

It may be loafing time for some of the young folks in this area, but 30 per cent of the regular Acalanes Union High School District's enrollment is attending a minimum of two classes a day in summer school, with more than fifty subjects being offered.

The program is being conducted at Acalanes High School in Lafayette.

Forty-two of the more than 1200 students in the Acalanes district's third summer session are enrolled in a course covering "career exploration."

The "career exploration" program gives students an opportunity to get an on-the-spot view of vocational activities and requirements in occupations in which they feel they have an interest.

Students are working as assistants in science industries, medical services and business. The program is headed by a school counselor, David Sweetman, who meets with the students individually and as a group to discuss their experiences and their potential in the vocational field they are exploring.

Apart from the practical laboratory aspects of the "career exploration" course, still other students are enrolled in a vocational preference program which exposes them to a battery of vocational preference tests, occupational guides and other materials that will help them narrow down the occupations that interest them.

Summer school Principal William Teutschel said the bulk of summer session students are attending courses that are either "review or elective" programs.

Review courses give students an opportunity to raise a grade or strengthen their understanding in a particular subject that may have been giving them trouble. Elective courses are provided for students who wish to extend their knowledge or skills in subjects which they might not otherwise be able to include in their regular school program.

Elective courses include classes in foreign languages, English, science, math, psychology, driver education, reading skills, music, drama, public speaking, crafts and shops, home economics, writing and grammar, and other subjects. Review courses cover English, math, science and social studies, and some foreign languages.

Teutschel reports that two thirds of the students attending this year's program are taking elective courses, an indication that many "of the students are here to add to their academic and skill training, aside from boosting their grades or abilities in review courses covering subjects they may have already taken."

Summer session in the Acalanes district runs until July 27. The program started June 18, the Monday following the close of regular school. For the more than 30 per cent of the district's regular student enrollment attending summer session, the modern-day school year covers 11 months.

That still leaves some time for idling and recreation, but the old problem of summer doldrums and "nothing to do" seems to be a thing of the past—at least for the pupils and parents of the more than 1200 kids who are "hitting the books" at Acalanes High School this summer of 1962.

FIGURATIVELY speaking, math problems are a favorite with Rosemary Mancini and Hugh Loomis, checking their work with instructor Merrill Callow.

KING-SIZED slide rule on the wall helps summer session students Barbara Gould and Richard Carter learn about the intricacies of its operation. Giving out instructions is John Lewis of the math department. The course is one of the electives offered summer classes.

WOODWORKING is one of the popular summer subjects with Jim Livingston, right, as the instructor. Students George Paine of Miramonte High and Steve Flynn of Las Lomas are among the enrollees. Instructor Livingston is versatile, teaching biology normally at Del Valle.

All Play and No Work Is More Fun--If Possible!

By KAREN STAFFORD AND JACKIE VILLATA

We'd like to thank Kitty and Ann for doing such a tremendous job in keeping up with the good 'ole Orinda gossip—we hope we can do as well!

After questioning many Miramonteans on what they'd been doing (with the excuse that we wanted news for the column) we finally managed to scrape up some bits of gossip.

The Country Club semi-formal was a great way to start off the summer for many kids who enjoyed a buffet style dinner in the parking lot and afterwards danced by the pool to the music of Al Trobee's band. Among the couples having a "good" time were Sheridan Stampley, John Sexson, Steve Baker, Joanne Boysen, Pete Lamb, Carol Thompson, Ernie Kahl, Kathy Knudsen, John Kielly, Pam Pearson, Ann Lincoln, Mike Chance, Rick Borden, Karen Nattress, Mark Rasmussen, Allison Stamp-ley, Chip Smith and Leslie Lee who entertained the couples with her version of "Hot Spell." Some of the more daring braved the cold water—huh Rick and Karen??

To top off the big evening quite a few couples headed for the Tonga Room where they delighted to the Stormy atmosphere.

Summer has brought a new interest to Orinda teens—money! A familiar figure down at the 76 Union station is Dean Hilger in his new blue suit. Bruce Nickerson is painstakingly caring for the grounds of the schools in Orinda. It sure is a good way to get a good tan, huh, Bruce? Bob Williams is driving a "little" truck doing work for his father while John Lackey finally got off to Tahoe where he will work the rest of the summer—that is, if his car holds out!

Sally Skaggs and Cindy Gravelle are teaching Arts and Crafts at Glorietta School. Barb Brush, Roxie Smith, Wendy Minor and Lana Dressler are spending their Thursday mornings at Children's Hospital as Candy Strippers.

The Ailanthus Reunion turned out to be quite a success. Many of the old members and the newer ones sat around the Fernsten's pool talking, eating, and taking in some sun in efforts to get tan. Some of the old grads were Marcie McQuidy, Sue Jensen, Marcia Nicole, Judy Bartlett, Linda Benson, Sandy Miller, Loni Anderson, Katy Baker, Marg Williams, Barb Champion, Carol Griffiths, Carolyn Archer, Lynn Bickerstaff and Janice Fowler.

About bathing suits—Anne Cunningham, Ann White and Jane—Triplets!! Also it was rather curious why Sue Fernsten wanted to keep her shirt on over her two-piece—they soon fixed that, didn't they, Sue??

Gary Rose has been busy playing tennis, of course. According to Byrness it's really exciting to watch the matches as she did at Burlingame last weekend.

Things began to jump for some ex-sophomores at Mike Gilmore's party where they had dinner, swam, and danced to Ray, naturally. Among those dancing and having a great time were Pete Boyle, Lani Freeman, Chris Campbell, Rick Borden, Ron Macario, Joanne Diercks, Billy Cooper and Karen Nattress.

Kaiser Hospital entertained two ex-seniors, Kitty Mika, who had a tumor removed, and Jeanette Miller, who had an operation on her knee. Linda Jones is at Peralta having her tonsils out—Good Luck! and enjoy your jello!

Mike McQuaid, who is now living in Arizona, bought a '57 black Chevy, while here in Orinda Skip Spaich can be seen catin' around in his '60 white Dodge convertible. Tough life, huh?

Debby William's one big dream—to spend the summer in New York—is now a reality. She will be there for the rest of the summer for a wonderful vacation. Gee, but it's good to get away, isn't it?

Two of our more talented grads, namely Linda Sears and Pat Kelly, tried out for a dancing part in the "Pajama Game" and made it! It is being put on by the Oakland Theater of Performing Arts and will last for six weeks. The entire cast will also be going to Clear Lake for one performance where they will have a picnic and dance. Have fun, girls!!

A recent Thursday night of cold winds, many kids bundled in coats and sweaters who were attempting to enjoy the "summer night air" at the park pool dance. Some of those were Bill Cooper, Bob Lyman, Gary McCosker, Candy Bray, Doug Dermitt, Linda VanSickle, Dick Hanlin, Bonnie Kent, Cherrie Romer, Sally Wright, Ann Lincoln, Mike Chance, Bob Williams, Bruce Nickerson, John Lackey, Brad Peter, Jackie Edenhelm and Barb Bagley.

From popular opinion the most entertaining part of the night was the impromptu singing of Grig DeWitt, Greg Peterson, Kip Nelson, Ron Joutas and Johnny Cooper. They came out with such songs as "White Port Lemon Juice."

Mexico seems to be a popular place for carefree Orindans. Doug Rasmussen, Roger McCosker, Johnny Cooper and John McIntyre drove down to visit Mexico last week. On the way down Johnny and Doug stopped in at some TV studios, one of them being Truth or Consequences. Of all the people in the audience those two were chosen to be on the show. So, don't forget to watch for them next month!

What's the big attraction in Seattle? Yep, the World's Fair. Among the many that went were Bill Schwark, Marty Spitler, Jim Taughinbaugh and John Lathan. By the way, Jim, is your new "vet" fixed yet?

There were many hot days last week and one of those days was spent by many girls swimming and signing yearbooks over at Gayle Baker's. Some of those loafing in the sun were Chris Cambell, Georgia Glacy, Nancy Allen, Jo-Anne Boysen, Sue Brown, Crissy Voll, Bonnie Brooks and Pat Cambell. There was a lot of picture taking and most of it was of Georgia and her black bikini.

Next year's senior class met recently in Tilden for a picnic and a colored picture spread by Mr. Neml. Although the weather was cold, the kids still came in carloads. Some attending were Sue Hickox, Leslie Lee, Barbie Brush, Kay Williams, Mimi Loomis, Barb Bagley, Sue Fernsten, Beckey Horne, Mary Hanson, Allison and Sheridan Stampley, Brad Hawkes, Rod Robinson, Larry Towers, Scott Huntley, Dean Munroe, Glen Tobias, Chip Smith, Rick Cannon and Ken White. Among the fun that was had was the co-ed baseball game in which no one really kept score. Some of the girls were a little mangled when the boys forgot they were playing with girls and came charging into the bases, huh, Sue?

Kay Dunbar left for three weeks at Santa Cruz. She's staying at a big cabin above the Santa Cruz Castle. Fran Obrecht, Trish Bascom and Kate Ellis are all coming down later to soak up the sun and walk the boardwalk with Kay. Kay also says that anybody is welcome to come down and visit. So, anybody going down that way, don't forget!

Greg Peterson and Milo Spaich took a day off, chartered a boat and went deep sea fishing. With close to five hours at sea, Milo only caught three fish and two were way under the size limit. Of course there was an explanation, according to Milo the blame was set on the winds!

One Tuesday, the beach seemed appealing to many Orinda girls. Jo-Anne Scholberg, Betty Schoppe, Sue Nattress, Bonnie Kent, Jackie Edenhelm, Linda VanSickle, Ann Lincoln, Wendy Wilcox, Cherri Romer, Kathy Beconcini, and Sue Hancock were the beach-clad girls who added to the scenery of King's Beach in San Francisco. The stunt of the day was when Sue Hancock and Kathy Beconcini were gaily running towards the surf and each one, consecutively, made a nose dive in the mud! After sunbathing, many crossed the street to Playland. Poor Cherri and Bonnie were white as ghosts when they came out of the scary (?) Mystery Tunnel.

At the big Twist Party at the Cow Palace: Linda VanSickle, Ed Young, Marilyn McManus and Roger Kline. According to Linda, the most popular group was, naturally, the U. S. Bonds.

School Additions Nearly Ready

Construction will soon be completed on the $114,000 multi-purpose room at Del Rey School, and the $76,000 four additional classrooms at Inland Valley Intermediate School.

With the completion of Del Rey's multi-purpose room, all seven of the schools in the Orinda Union School district will have this type facility. It will seat 400-500 children, or adults for their meetings.

"THIS WILL facilitate our educational program, and be a great asset to the school," according to Herman Nyland, Jr., principal of Del Rey.

The multi-purpose room will contain a cafeteria with in-wall tables. A capacity of 250 diners may be seated at one time. Other features of the room include an adequate stage with attached dressing room, boys' and girls' toilets off the lobby, and a kitchen for lunches.

The kitchen has a walk-in refrigerated room for supplies, as well as adequate sanitary garbage facilities.

THE ROOM has a 10-foot, natural wood wainscoting and a colored stucco wall finish. Drapes, complementing the wall color, will provide a black-out room for the showing of movies.

"The entire building will be ready and complete in every detail to serve the children, as well as their parents," said James Anderson, of Anderson, Simonds, Dusel and Campini, architects for both of the projects.

THE DEL REY Parents Club is contemplating the purchase of a curtain for the stage.

The four classrooms at IVI will be ready for use by sixth, seventh and eighth graders in September. They are designed for use at the intermediate class level, but are interchangeable for IV students.

"The big thing is that we will be able to cut down the size of our classes in the fall," said William Gaskell, principal of Inland Valley Intermediate. "Classes were too large last semester."

Three additional classrooms are also planned for Glorietta School. The latter two projects will be financed by the bonds authorized to be sold at the May meeting of the board of trustees for the district.

These were purchased according to Dr. James Jentges, assistant superintendent for business services of the district, for $192,000 by the Bank of America National Trust and Savings Associates. The effective net interest is 3.2339 per cent. "This is at least .6 per cent less than any of our sales during the past two years," said Dr. Jentges.

Nielsen Sends Planners Letter of Commendation

Eric Nielsen, president of the Orinda Association, sent a letter to the county planning commission last week expressing appreciation for "the fine cooperation" extended by the staff.

"As one of several county organizations concerned with planning and zoning matters, we have frequently appeared before you and written to you expressing our views," said Nielsen.

"USUALLY WE find ourselves in opposition to proposals being presented and on occasion have been unsuccessful in sustaining our position," he added.

The Orinda civic leader wrote that "over the years we have worked quite closely with the various members of the planning department staff in trying to remain well informed and to adopt what we believe are constructive positions."

"IN GENERAL," he said, "we have found the cooperation offered us by the staff to be outstanding and extremely helpful. In particular, Anthony De Haesus and Norman Halverson, with whom we have dealt most frequently in recent years, have been most patient and unselfish in giving us their time and attention with our problems."

Nielsen said that while the association has not always

Carroll Wins New Corvair

Tom Carroll of Moraga won the Corvair awarded at the Brentwood Lions' Club "Carnique" on the Fourth of July.

Co-chairmen for the event were Steve Seko, Bob Smith and John Adams. President Ferrera of the Brentwood club will make the presentation in Moraga Monday at the Moraga Lions' regular meeting, offices July 2.

agreed with them, "without exception we have found them completely honest, reliable and objective."

Weidner Claims Administration Pledged Its Aid

At a county-wide meeting of 43 area and activities chairmen in Martinez last week, Charles R. Weidner, candidate for Congress, gave a report of his recent trip to Washington and conferences with administration and Democratic leaders.

In a whirlwind three days in the Capitol, candidate Weidner had 25 interviews and conferences, according to his report, including a White House meeting with members of President Kennedy's official staff.

Weidner stated that administration officials attach unusual significance to the 14th Congressional race and have promised active support to his campaign.

Campaign strategy and procedures were outlined by Senator George Miller Jr., of Martinez, campaign chairman.

The ten area chairmen in charge of overall campaign activities and registration assistance are: Antioch, Carolina Zamora; Pittsburg, Lillie Alleman; Concord, Ben Russell; Pleasant Hill, Pacheco, Martinez, Port Chicago, Jim Utz; Danville, Alamo, Walnut Creek, Lafayette, Orinda, Moraga, Jane Wooten; Crockett, Pinole, Rodeo, Hercules, El Sobrante, John Vasconcellos; San Pablo, Roll

Newsman Will Confer on Anti-Litter Law

Newspaper editors will be given a chance to express their views on a proposed anti-litter ordinance to control unpaid newspaper circulars and throw-away hand bills when they meet with members of the County Highway Clean-up Committee July 26 in Martinez.

They were invited to appear before the committee by chairman Edmund A. Linscheid, who said he believed "this meeting can provide us with a quantity of beneficial information which we may not formerly have access to."

The anti-litter ordinance was drawn up by the county district attorney's office and has not yet been presented by the committee to the Board of Supervisors.

Loads of new modern phone books will be delivered in Contra Costa County

Your new phone book has the latest thing in phone numbers. They're all-numeral numbers. But the numbers correspond to the same dial openings as the letters they replace, so dialing itself remains the same.

The country's growing population is the reason for the new all-numeral phone numbers. As more and more families get telephones, usable letter combinations for prefix names are being used up. Going to an all-numeral system throughout the nation will help make enough phone numbers available to keep up with this growth.

All Number Calling has other advantages. It prevents wrong numbers caused by mistaken spelling, such as "CI" instead of "CY" for CYPRESS. It also eliminates the confusion between the letter "O" and the numeral "0" and the letter "I" and the numeral "1." When all telephone numbers are all numerals, the letters can be removed from the dial, making dials easier to read and use.

We've sent you a new number card for your telephone dial that shows your all-numeral number. If you have not received this card, just call Repair Service and another will be sent right away.

You may want to look up the numbers in your new phone book that you call most often and write them in your telephone "Blue Book." If you don't have one of these free personal directories, just call your local business office. We'll be glad to send you one.

Blow Your Top— And Be Sorry

Junior baseball has been going in full swing for several weeks in our communities, and as in past years, some parents are setting a bad sportsmanship example for their children and other children.

This is ironic, since one of the principle reasons why parents enroll their young boys in junior baseball is to teach them how to be good winners and good losers, preparing them for those inevitable setbacks waiting for them in later life.

ONE YOUTH setting an example of bad sportsmanship is hard to ignore, but this certainly has none of the impact on other players as does the sight of an angry, ill-tempered parent.

Such parents get emotionally involved in the winning and losing of the particular game, and forget what junior baseball is all about. They hurt their own children and other children who hear and see such antics.

It is important to remember that junior baseball is just that—it is for the kids, not the parents.

An adult yelling something like "Kill the umpire" may be perfectly acceptable in a big league game, where other spectators realize this jerk is just blowing off steam.

BUT THAT ADULT should curb his ire or stay away from junior baseball, where youthful combative-ness is best channeled into the playing of the game itself.

The actions of parents largely determine the attitudes of their children and other children.

Adult understanding and wisdom can make a big difference in all youthful endeavors, including other sports programs, such as local swim meets, and the athletic events scheduled during the regular school year.

Nibbles Make A Big Bite

The County Grand Jury report this year indicates that one of its committees was extremely concerned with the multiplicity, complication and expense of special taxing districts, created to do a specific job and perpetuated throughout the years required to pay for the facility or service.

Each taxing district solves a single immediate problem. But each homeowner involved in an area accustomed to solving its problems with such districts discovers that while some districts "fade away" others continue on seemingly forever. And new ones are all the while being created.

In some of our areas, this has gotten out of control. There are too many tax districts; few people know how these districts are being administered; when each district takes its tax nibble, the bite is enormous.

THE CURRENT GRAND jury feels that greater control and coordination may be possible if future special districts are created under the aegis of the county government, using county personnel.

Strong consideration has also been given in some areas to the use of the "county service area," which under state law allows an area to enter into a contract agreement with the county for special services.

This may involve county public works, law enforcement or other fields. The creation of a new agency, masked in anonymity, is avoided.

Best of all is the situation where some means can be found to avoid creating any new taxing situation at all. The grand jury suggests that with the development of new city or county services, this possibility should be explored to the fullest before any neighborhood undertakes a new tax.

THE "COUNTY SERVICE area" may remain as the happy medium for the present, creating the service or need facility, not avoiding an additional tax but eliminating the new taxing agency.

Certainly the grand jury's recommendations regarding the county service area bears strong careful examination, especially considering the situation where a simple request to the county or city for a special service would throw an undue burden on the rest of the taxpayers.

Would the county service area mean less local control than the special district? An argument against this is the fact that few people know much about the numerous special districts appearing on their tax bill, anyway.

Number, Please!

Do you miss that old-fashioned system of using Yellowstone, Atlantic, Clifford and other prefixes when making a phone call?

Have you found it as easy to remember seven numbers in the new system as five numbers as of old? How about the long distance call, when direct dialing requires you to remember or at least be able to dial correctly 10 numbers in a row?

It's a challenge for most of us at The Sun, even though we can always be found on the side of "progress" and against "status quo."

We Like It Here... It's not the Black Cats & ladders that bother me!

By MARIE MONAHAN

BE CAREFUL of black cats today! When Friday & the number 13 come together on the calendar, it is wise to proceed with caution. Put on the skids, kids! Like getting out of bed on the Right Side. Like not walking under any ladders.

WHEN we were very, very young, the worst thing that could happen to a girl was to have a mirror break. Seven years of bad luck. Tsk, Tsk!

The first day or two, OH! how we'd fret over this tragedy. No boy would EVER like us. We'd never be blessed with curly hair. We'd NEVER get invited to a party.

The first week or two we surprisingly survived but worried how we'd ever live through the next six years & some.

By the third week, we'd forgot all about it... SKIPPING the sidewalk along the sidewalks, we'd be extra careful on Friday, the 13th, lest we stepped on a line of one of the concrete squares.

"Step on a crack & you'll break your Mother's back!" we'd sing-sing the old superstition.

If we lost our balance & landed smack-o on a crack or line, golly how we suffered! What pangs of conscience kept us astir all night. We knew if Mom DID get a broken back or a broken anything, it would be our fault.

It was kind of delicious, feeling so guilty. But after a sleepless night, it was always a relief to find Mom standing erect over the kitchen stove in the morn.

Now suddenly I'm the straight-backed mirage at the kitchen range. Chastising my children for any of those old-fashioned beliefs. I know better about black cats by now.

IT's not the black cats that bother a bit. IT's OUR cats. They are the ones to watch out for. I don't trust them at all. Take the pretty campanula I planted in the white wicker planter outside the front door. Is the campanula in bloom & billowing over the edge of the lacy flower box?

NOT A CHANCE. These cats think that wicker box is their new PAD... & there they take turns snuggling blissfully, squashing the very life out of my pretty plants.

It's like ladders. I don't give them a second thought. What I DO look out for are small boys 'way up high in tree forts. There they are looking up, not down, & beware if YOU'RE beneath someplace. You're taking a chance that a pine cone won't conk you on the old bean... or a stray 2x4...

BROKEN MIRRORS? The best of 'em I've broken & my life is daily plagued with mishaps. But it's the family pooch I'm watching out for these days.

Pieces of glass I can patch. But not the bed of cinerarias in which this dog has decided to bury his latest steak bones. No, nowadays, black cats, ladders & broken mirrors are passe.

It doesn't take stepping on cracks to break a Mother's back. THE WHOLE DARN menagerie takes care of THAT!

Letters to The Editor

TRUTHFULLY
Dear Editor:

I have an excellent suggestion for those parents and taxpayers who are concerned lest their children are not being given enough emphasis in American history or institutions.

All they have to do is enroll them in any one of about 30 classes offered at DVC alone to furnish just this background.

They may enroll them in one of about 13 classes of history of the U.S., courses 120-121, or one of 11 courses in political institutions of our federal government, courses 120-121, which include state and local institutions.

History of California is offered in course 124, and courses 140-141 offer history of our western civilization. There are political science courses 120-121, which deal with the three major forms of government with stress on the meanings of our constitution.

Those students whose parents feel that they do have an adequate basis in American history from high school and who wish to broaden their social scope may ELECT to take social science courses 110-111, which deal with the ideas which have shaped our society. Even so, they will meet state requirements by passing a test on the constitution.

The inference that American history is being "taken away" or "washed out" by our junior colleges is simply not so!

Either the recent "textbook evaluations" were designed to be misleading and inflammatory to the sponsors and the evaluators never even bothered to look at a college catalogue and did not know that the courses to which they were pitching such fevered objections were electives.

In either case they can hardly be said to be purveyors of "The Truth." I have a truth of my own—live and let live.

RITA COOK

RIOTOUS!

Dear Editor:

You wonder why the school bonds failed to pass. Just refer back to the student riot at the San Francisco City Hall for the answer.

As long as the State colleges harbor the long-haired radicals you will not get the votes from decent people to make their way easy.

R. E. LAWSON.

Letters to The Editor

PAPA JOE
Dear Editor:

The obituary columns will soon carry the story of the passing of Joseph A. George, 88, who passed away July 8 in a Concord hospital following a long illness.

These statistics do not do justice to the little man with the crippled arm who did so much for the youngsters of the area.

Joe George was born in the Azores and came to the United States while still a young boy. He made his home in the Lafayette and Walnut Creek area the past 50 years.

He was the gardener at the Lafayette schools for some 15 years.

While he had very little formal education he became the "confidante" of many of the school children through the years.

A bachelor, he was still able to understand the thinking of these youngsters and to help and advise them with their problems.

Whether it was a broken window he was called on to repair or a plant or shrub, he cautioned them sternly and smiled his forgiveness.

The right arm was crippled in an accident while he was still a young boy.

Improper attention left it twisted, yet he was able to overcome this handicap through stubborn determination. Most of his work was gardening, but he could handle a saw and hammer, too.

As a neighbor and friend the past 23 years we became very fond of "Papa Joe."

When personal illness laid me low, he was the first to ask if he could be of any help.

This was the man that passed away early Sunday morning. We will miss him, as will hundreds of others who were among his friends.

C. R. (CHUCK) JOHNSTON

ORINDA POST OFFICE
Dear Editor:

Pardon my curiosity, but which board approves and passes on such monotonous and uninspiring government edifices as our new Orinda Post Office?

True, the trend is for modern utilitarian structures, but shouldn't a government building be something more than an accordion-topped cement box? Modern lines can be beautiful, you know!

And what about having a village green adjacent to the post office with a few restful benches to relieve the monotony of asphalt and add a touch of beauty to the Village or must that too, give way to "commercial progress?"

I believe a community planned by its builders is a monument to their sense of beauty and I am afraid our (could-have-been-lovely) Orinda Village will only earn the nickname of "Gasoline Alley" which is not much for posterity.

Can't we all salvage what can still be saved before it is too late? I love Orinda—don't you?

Staff Corner Recreation-- Should We Have More?

By GEORGE COLBURN

We're in the midst of summertime—when the living is easy.

Youngsters and oldsters always look forward to the summer months, but here in this grand Utopia of modern-day living, youngsters sometimes have a hard time finding things to do.

This, of course, is attributed to the amazing growth of the Eastbay's suburbia. Recreation development hasn't caught up with the number of people living here.

This is not a plea for more parks—people apparently don't think they are worth the tax price they would have to pay—as shown in the June election.

AND IF you are a parent whose son is a Boy Scout, swims on the community pool team and plays junior league baseball, he's probably a pretty busy lad. Daughter can swim on the pool team and be a Girl Scout to keep her almost as busy.

However—and unfortunately—not all kids are that All-American.

Illegal juvenile activity in the central county area is up 15 per cent as compared with May when school was in session. However, this is not unusual, the sheriff's office reports. It's normal. Yet the before-the-end-of-the-month juvenile acts warranted a survey by the sheriff at the request of Supervisor Mel Nielsen who was alarmed at the amount of vandalism in his area.

Kids need supervised activities to keep them busy—such as school offers. It's not that they can't think for themselves; it's just that they're young and don't want to bother unless they are pointed in the right direction.

WITH the wonderful playground nature has given us in the central county area, it's a shame kids don't have more supervised activity on our wonderful lands.

The YMCA isn't that big here yet. It doesn't have a building (comparable to the big cities) in which to centralize its activities. Its leaders are trying, but they really haven't made a dent here yet. They need a facility.

In Lafayette, Danville - Alamo and Orinda-Moraga it's up to private groups to offer recreation for the youngsters.

Youth of Pleasant Hill and Walnut Creek are lucky that they have recreation departments (in Pleasant Hill, it's a district). However, in both cities, the programs offered haven't come close to what the big city offers.

SCOUTING is big hereabouts and it should be. It fills a vacuum created by a lack of other activities—and our countryside corresponds to the idea of the outside life. It's likely that scouting is bigger here than in the city.

What can be done about this problem in Utopia? It's something that has been discussed over and over again. In Lafayette, a drive has been started for a community center where teen activities would have a base. The Orinda Association has talked of a similar center for their land—but nothing's definite. Also, there is talk in Moraga of a community center with the same general ideas.

These things would help keep the youngsters from vandalism, etc., when the teachers are off-duty. Also, the Lafayette Youth Association, Danville's active baseball groups and Orinda's school district ease the problems of recreation in Utopia.

To have a recreation district in the unincorporated areas (similar to Pleasant Hill's—established before the city was formed), the taxpayer will have to pay another penny—which he probably won't do.

So it's up to mom and dad, and those interested private groups, to keep working—and hard—if they want to keep the kids out of trouble.

We wish them luck—it's a big job.

SHORT CUT

Dear Editor:

The initiative which will be on the ballot in November giving grand juries the power to brand citizens "communists" is a vicious and un-American type of short cutting of the due processes of law!

It deserves to be studied and defeated. If all of us would practice Christianity, we would never allow such a measure to pass.

Under The Sun Junior Baseball--Is It Terrible or Wonderful?

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

A very sincere and determined lady came into the office the other day. She was adamant in her opposition to junior baseball, Little League, Babe Ruth League or whatever name is used.

I agreed with her that foremost medical authorities condemn organized football and baseball for grammar school students.

I agreed that too much pressure is put on the kids to win.

I agreed that adult coaches and parents lose their sense of proportion near the athletic field and set poor examples for the youngsters.

Which is most important?

I agreed that sometimes sportsmanship becomes less important than winning the game.

I agreed that often the less able players sit on the bench and are not given the chance to play as much as they should.

I agreed that in some leagues the dollar cost to the youngsters is extremely high.

I agreed that parents and kids alike face indigestion and nervous breakdowns rushing to practices and games.

Yes, I agreed with much of what she said—and yet, I consider "junior baseball" a wonderful activity. I've survived the past five years of this activity and enjoyed it.

Young muscle men?

I look at my two boys and their fellow players. I admire their broad shoulders, muscles and solid bodies. Physically they have benefited tremendously. They would not have received this exercise were it not for junior baseball. (Let's call it that, shall we?)

And they learned the game. Not only the rules and how to play, but how to get along with the other fellows on the team.

They learned sportsmanship. They learned how to lose as well as how to win. And this is certainly important. They learned there is such a thing as "competition." And this is important, for isn't much of our way of life competitive?

Sitting like birds?

They learned there is more to sports than sitting in the stand watching a game. They played the game.

In addition to all this "education," my boys and their friends had fun. They enjoyed the game.

Yes, I agree with much of the criticism against junior baseball. My prime objection is to the antics of the adults—not the kids. And every year I have to remind myself that the game belongs to the boys and not the adults.

Well, what do you think?

Letters to The Editor

SCHOOL SALUTE
Dear Editor,

The Mt. Diablo Evening School staff wishes to offer its heartfelt thanks to you and your paper for your co-operation with and support of the adult education program. The stories and articles you print help the people of our community in keeping informed of the courses offered and available to them.

Adult education continues to grow in our area and its extremely low cost, coupled with diversity in offerings, helps make the community grow and progress.

Learning is a life-long process that does not stop at any set age or grade in school. Training for new jobs or new fields of interest is just one of the functions of adult education and the Mt. Diablo Evening School staff is always eager to hear of the desires of our community.

Again, we wish to thank you for your support and encouragement of our program.
L. M. HAAGENSEN,
Principal.

EXCELLENCE
Dear Editor,

We were pleased to read in the "Sun" that our State Assembly had passed a resolution commending you and the Sun newspapers.

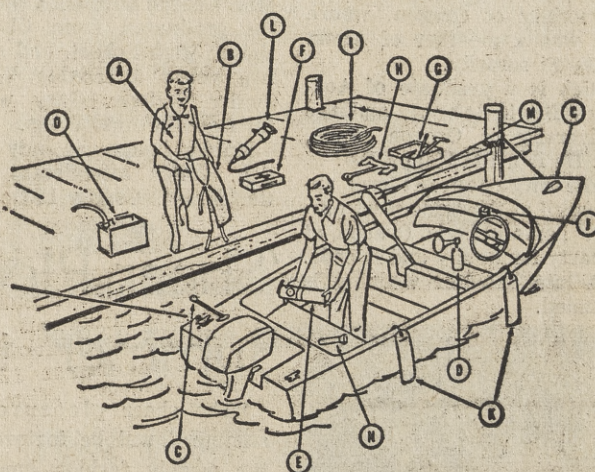

We note that the resolution was occasioned by the award presented to the Walnut Creek Sun for general excellence among weekly newspapers throughout the nation and the award for general excellence presented to the Sun newspapers by the California Publishers Association.

We feel these awards, and the others you have received, have been well deserved, and I can testify personally to the coverage you have given at least one phase of community affairs, that is your reporting of water news in Contra Costa County.

Congratulations to you and your staff on winning recognition for a job well done.

Local Brides and Grooms March Merrily to Mendelssohn

June weddings are now a beautiful memory; and July brides are trekking down the middle aisle en force.

No matter what the month, the happy day is relived in the brides' book "forever after." Some of the recent weddings of the area are those of:

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT E. RHOADES (NEE CAROLYN JANE VAN CLEAVE)

Before 300 guests at the Walnut Creek Presbyterian Church, Robert E. Rhoades claimed the former Carolyn Jane Van Cleave as his wife. The beautifully appointed 3 p.m. double-ring ceremony was performed by the Reverend William Carl Thomas.

The reception followed at Round Hills Country Club, Alamo.

Carolyn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Van Cleave, 2009 Reliez Valley Road, Lafayette. She is a graduate of Acalanes High School and Diablo Valley College.

Bob is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Rhoades of 3869 Happy Valley Road, Lafayette. He is a graduate of Acalanes, and attended Santa Rosa Junior College.

Carolyn was a lovely bride as she walked down the aisle on the arm of her father. Her gown was of peau de soie with long tapered sleeves, full skirt and train. Insets of lace and seed pearls trimmed the front panel of the dress, bodice and train.

Her chapel length veil was held by a tiara of seed pearls and crystals. Carolyn carried a cascade of white orchids, roses and stephanotis.

Matron of honor was the bride's sister, Shirley DePiero. Bridesmaids were Roseanne Kleckner, Edith Grant, the groom's sister, and Monica Deemer.

Their gowns were of pink nylon organza. The attendants carried sprays of American Beauty roses.

The bride's niece, 2½-year-old Lisa De Piero was flower girl. The groom's nephew, Wayne Grant, 5 years, was ring bearer.

Best man was Marvin E. Lucas. Ushers were Edward Coleman, George Kaffer and Addie Ausplund.

After a honeymoon to Yosemite, Las Vegas and Los Angeles, the newlyweds returned to their home to 1925 Maybelle Street, Pleasant Hill. Carolyn is employed at the Bank of America, Lafayette. Bob is with the Lafayette Central Fire District.

MR. AND MRS. ARTHUR PIERCE DULL (NEE CAROL ANN ADAM)

A Las Lomas High School teacher, Arthur Pierce Dull, and the former Carol Ann Adam recited their nuptial vows at the First Presbyterian Church, Hayward, recently.

Art is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles O. Dull, 1074 Rahara Drive, Lafayette. He graduated from Acalanes High School and the University of the Pacific where he was a member of Delta Upsilon fraternity. He made his home in Walnut Creek.

Carol is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin George Adam of Encinitas. She is a graduate of Fresno State College.

Maid of honor was Faith Ann Adam. Other attendants were Virginia Boomer and Judy Wheeler.

Best man was Robert Gottelli. Ushers were Gordon Adam, Lindell Sturgeon, Michael Dahlgren and Derry Hamilton.

The new Mrs. Dull, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a soft flowing silk organza gown with a sweetheart neckline edged in Chantilly lace.

The bouffant skirt was also lavished with Chantilly lace applique. Her veil was fingertip length. The bridal bouquet was of lily of the valley and stephanotis.

The attendants wore ice green silk organza sheaths with overskirts and matching hats. Their flowers were yellow carnations.

Candelabra on either side of the altar was flanked by arrangements of white gladioli. A reception followed the ceremony in the garden of the groom's parents.

After an Hawaiian honeymoon, the newlyweds will be at home in Concord.

MR. AND MRS. CHESTER GUNN MOORE, JR. (NEE PATRICIA IOLA KENNETT)

The Hillcrest Congregational Church, Pleasant Hill, was the recent setting for the marriage of the former Patricia Iola Kennett to Chester Gunn Moore, Jr. The 2 p.m. formal ceremony was conducted by the Reverend C. Eugene Sill.

Patt, as the new Mrs. Moore is known to her friends, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Kennett of Reliez Valley Road, Lafayette.

She majored in home economics at the University of California at Davis, after her graduation from Acalanes High School.

The groom, Chet, is the son of the senior Chester Gunn Moors of Newman. He earned his master's degree in entomology earlier this year.

Patt's maid of honor was her sister, Joann Kennett. Her matron of honor was Mrs. Richard Murril, a college friend. Bridesmaids were Sandra Stark, a college friend, and Marylee Moore, the groom's sister.

The bride's exquisite gown was designed and made by her. It was of white French imported lace over ice blue satin, with Bateau neckline and elbow length sleeves. Watteau back pleats fell into the chapel train.

The crown and veil was borrowed from the matron of honor. Patt's bouquet was of white orchids and stephanotis. The bridesmaids' light blue, floor length damask dresses were also designed by the bride. Their crowns and shoes matched. Their flowers were white gladioli.

Pat Ford of Walnut Creek was among those who assisted at the reception in the bride's parents' garden.

The young couple is now at home at Davis. Chet will begin work on his doctorate in entomology. Patt will teach home economics at Winters High School in the fall.

MR. AND MRS. MICHAEL HAWS (NEE KAREN ROSE JEFFRIES)

Michael Haws Traynor of Orinda and the former Karen Rose Jeffries of Lafayette recently exchanged marital vows at the Orinda Community Church. The Reverend Chauncey Blossom performed the rites at a 7 p.m. candlelit service.

Karen Rose is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jeffries, 835 Sibert Court, Lafayette. She graduated from Acalanes High School and the University of California, Berkeley, where she was affiliated with Alpha Gamma Delta sorority.

Mike is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Traynor, 29 Hacienda Circle, Orinda. After graduation from Acalanes High School, he attended San Jose State College. He is in his last year at U.C. where he's a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity.

Walking down the aisle on the arm of her father, the bride wore a gown of white chiffon taffeta with Chantilly lace bodice. It was a chapel length with long sleeves.

The French illusion veil was held by a cap of pearls. Karen's bouquet was of white roses.

Mrs. Alan McMasters of Walnut Creek was matron of honor for her sister. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Norman Scott, another sister, of Arcata, Lynette Paine and Sally Adair were also attendants.

Their gowns were pink brocade, full skirted, with matching caps and veils. They carried colonial bouquets of pink carnations and pink roses. The honor attendant had white roses.

Dennis Traynor was his brother's best man. Another brother, Brian Traynor, was usher; as was John Phair and Norman Waddell. All of the groom's men were from Orinda.

A reception at Orinda Masonic Lodge followed the service.

After a Santa Barbara honeymoon, the couple settled in Berkeley.

Senator Miller Named to Help Draft Platform

Roger Kent, chairman of the California Democratic State Central Committee, has announced the appointment of State Senator George Miller, Jr. (Contra Costa) and Assemblyman Carley V. Porter (Los Angeles) as chairman and vice chairman, respectively, of the Platform Committee of the 1962 Democratic State Convention.

The convention is to be held on August 25 in Sacramento and will then draft and adopt the 1962 platform of the Democratic Party of California.

Kent also announced that pre-convention platform committee hearings are tentatively scheduled for July 23-25 to consider recommendations for inclusion in the platform.

Senator Miller will preside over the hearings to be held in San Francisco and Assemblyman Porter will preside over those to be held in Los Angeles.

County to Start Kids' Protective Service Program

A program of specialized case-work service for children who are neglected, abused, exploited or cruelly treated will be undertaken by the Contra Costa Social Service Department beginning September 1, according to Director W. G. Golden.

This protective service program, to be fully reimbursed by the State Department of Social Welfare, will cost about $28,000.

He said the service is preventive and non-punitive and is geared toward rehabilitation of the home and treatment of the underlying factors.

The service would be provided, at first, only in the west end of the county, including El Cerrito, San Pablo, Richmond and east along Highway 40 to Crockett, Golden said.

Four additional employees hired for the program will work closely with the police, probation, school, social service departments as well as other community agencies.

The program is only available to families who are not receiving financial service.

The Bureau of Land Management sowed 6889 pounds of seed on 9388 acres of western Oregon timberlands.

Development Assoc. Cancels July Meeting

Directors of the Contra Costa County Development Association will meet again August 28, dispensing with a July meeting because of the vacation period, according to J. T. Ritch, general manager.

In the meantime, J. M. Gill of Pittsburg, who was recently installed as president, will make assignments to six basic committees, New Industries, Industrial Problems, Commercial Development, Highways, Recreation and Airport.

Letters went out to the association's 63 directors last week asking them to designate their first and second choices for committee assignment. They were also requested to state their ideas of how the association can be most effective in promoting the county's resources.

At the association's advisory committee meeting June 28, Larry Hamilton, manager of the Air Reduction Pacific Plant at Richmond was named to fill a vacancy on the board of directors, conditional upon his acceptance. William Attix, district manager of the telephone company, was also named to the board. Both have indicated acceptance.

Sheriff Holds Public Auction

Sheriff Walter F. Young has announced that a sheriff's auction sale of unclaimed property will be held tomorrow morning at 10 a.m. in the parking lot at the rear of the Administration Building, located at the corner of Pine and Escobar Streets, Martinez. Approximately 40 boys' and girls' bicycles, in varying degrees of condition, from very good to poor, are included in the list of articles to be sold to the highest bidders.

Also included are two small gasoline motors, several jeep gasoline cans, fishing gear and miscellaneous items.

Wildermuth Oils Shown At St. Mary's

Seven oil canvases and a variety of other works of Nancy Wildermuth are on exhibit at the Saint Mary's College Library until September 13.

Miss Wildermuth, an instructor at Holy Names College, Oakland, holds an M.F.A. from Mills College and an M.A. from Pius XII Institute, Florence, Italy. She has exhibited at the Carmel Religious Art Show under the auspices of the Bach Festival.

In addition to the oils, the exhibit contains woodcuts, veneer print, lithography.

Library hours during the summer are Monday - Friday, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Another 'Must' in WC; Little League Tourney

By HEC HANCOCK

I see that $3500 has been budgeted by the City of Walnut Creek for the paving of the area between the Walnut Creek Recreation Center and the creek.

I'm sure that until now, very few of you realized what a pressing problem this presents.

However, this is understandable to a point. Nobody, to my knowledge, had ever complained about the existing condition.

This is just a little "goodie" being passed along to us by the city. Certainly, this is much more preferable than providing adequate diamonds for kids to play baseball on, or tennis courts or other recreational facilities.

While approximately $157,000 has been allocated to Parks and Recreation, is this why Walnut Creek has so few recreational facilities?

Those of you who would like to watch some top flite competition, played under ideal conditions, should plan to watch the Little League competition to be hosted by the San Ramon Valley Little League Park on July 19, 20 and 21.

The Danville tournament, comprised of members of the six major league teams of the San Ramon Valley Little League will take on the Concord Americans on July 19. The following day, the Concord Nationals will play Vallejo, with the winners of these two games meeting to decide the area representative on Saturday.

On July 27 the winner from Danville will play the Area 4 champion at Martinez. At the same time the winners of Area 1 and 2 will be playing at Travis AFB. The winners of these two games will then play at Danville July 28 to determine the district champion.

If you haven't seen the San Ramon Little League Park, there is a real treat for you. This is without question the most attractive park I've had the pleasure of seeing. This is a living testimonial to what co-operation between school authorities and civic energy can produce.

The San Ramon Valley Little League, host for the event, is going all out. Additional bleachers are being added, and crowds of up to 1500 spectators are anticipated. Parking facilities are available across the street at the San Ramon High School.

Games start each evening at 6 p.m. There isn't any admission charge, but those wishing to make a donation will be accommodated.

Now, how can you beat a deal like that?

The Lafayette Youth Association's leagues have really taken on the reputation of being a pitchers' league this year. There have been several no-hit, no-run games already in the record books this season.

However, last week, there were two "perfect" games recorded.

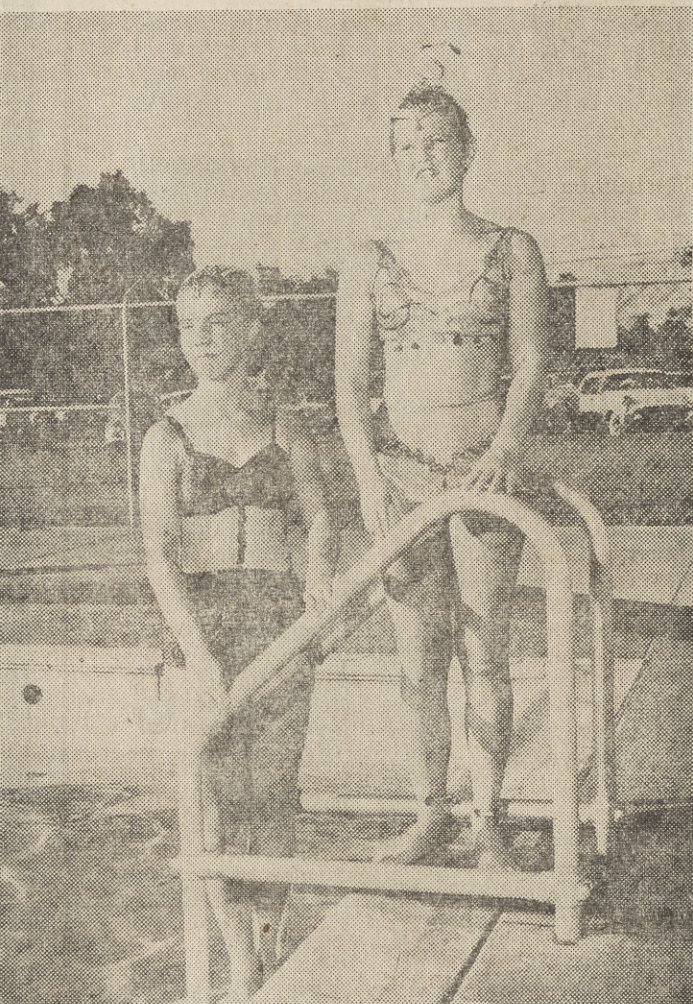

Steve Fink of Campana Music of the Majors and Doug Snelgrove of Lafayette Toyland of the Pony League, both threw "perfect" games in that each only faced 18 batters over the six-inning stretch.

Someday, try and figure what the odds would be if this ever happens in the major leagues.

National Meet Is Next for Local Swimmers

Howell Swim School of Danville and the Aquadevils will represent the local area at the National AAU Synchronized Swim championships Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at Foothill College in Los Altos.

Diane Howell will compete in the solo competition and with Carolyn Deardorff in the duet division. The Howell school will also enter its foursome of Miss Howell, Miss Deardorff, Denise Land and Kathy Craig in the team competition.

The Aquadevils will be entering a six-girl group composed of Sharon Jolly, Yvonne Henry, Cathy Knibbe, Melinda Sellers, Alice Ann Walker and Dorothea Sollenber in the team competition.

Solo preliminaries will open the three-day meet Wednesday at 9 a.m. with team preliminaries at 2 p.m.

THURSDAY there will be duet preliminaries at 9 a.m. with the stunt competition at 2 p.m. At 8:30 p.m., the duet finals will be held followed by a swimming and diving exhibition.

The Howell school finished third in last weekend's Senior Pacific Association AAU Synchronized Swimming championships at San Rafael.

In the team competition, Howell finished third.

DUET DIVISION winners in the recent Junior Pacific AAU Synchronized Swimming competition held at San Ramon High School were Carolyn Deardorff (left) and Dianne Howell, both of Danville and the Howell Swim School. Miss Howell also took top honors in the solo division.

Local Girls Win AAU Track Trophy

A team of six young local ladies known as the Los Pinos Diablos won the Girls' Team Championship last weekend at the National Girls' and Women's AAU Track and Field Championships at Los Angeles.

The team managed to win the trophy with only four girls competing in the finals.

The group swept the girls' baseball throw, with Daryl Pennington taking first with a toss of 233 feet 2 1/2 inches, Kathleen Mirko second (233 feet 8 inches), and Sally Sutton third (232 feet 6 1/2 inches).

IN THE GIRLS' eight-pound shotput, Miss Sutton placed third with a toss of 36 feet 8 inches. Gretchen Wallin took fifth in that event with a throw of 35 feet 5 1/2 inches.

Miss Pennington threw the javelin 120 feet to take fourth in the girls' event. Also placing were Miss Mirko, fifth, with a toss of 119 feet 4 inches, and Miss Sutton, sixth, with a throw of 114 feet 6 inches.

Miss Pennington and Miss Sutton were the only members of the team to qualify in the women's events. Miss Pennington threw the javelin 135 feet 9 inches in the finals to take fifth.

Close Races In WC Jr. Baseball

As the Walnut Creek Junior Baseball season heads into the final two weeks of play, close battles are raging in every division for the top spot. There is every indication that with one or two exceptions, the league races won't be definitely decided until the final games have been played.

Only Diablo Cleaners of the International League and the Cubs of the Optimist League, the only remaining undefeated and untied teams, enjoy what could possibly be termed comfortable bulges.

In the Coast League, A & W Root Beer, who have only a tie to blemish their record, have contenders breathing down their necks. The National Loop is knotted up between Russ Barber Shop and Jack and Bob's Meats. Burton's Nursery has a slight lead in the Western Gold, but can't be considered "in." The WCYAA leads the American, but the rest of the league hasn't conceded.

COAST LEAGUE

The A & W Root Beer retained their undefeated status coming from a 5-0 deficit to defeat the Kiwanis, 9-5. Paul Adams clouted a homer and John Shertenlieb bashed a triple for A & W. Jay Johnson of Kiwanis hit a triple.

Gil Ashcom Rangler nipped Army Navy Surplus 4-3 to drop the Army Navy team off the pace. Bob Clark and Ron Lindberg combined to handle the pitching chores. Mark Chapman, Bob Clark and Paul Ross combined to account for three of the Rambler runs. Dennis Woodsmall drove in the winning run with a double.

Stevenson Electronics stayed right in the pennant race with a 15-1 decision over the Reds. Jim Allen, Charles Clark and Gary LeRoy handled the hurling chores. Allen helped his cause with a homer.

The scrappy Walnut Creek Elks, although still looking for their first win of the campaign, gave Davis Donuts a real tussle before the Donut club edged out a 10-9 win.

Walnut Creek Sheet Metal had things their way over Sandra Joy Casuals 15-8.

DAVE ROBERTSON and Doug McIntosh toiled on the mound for Walnut Creek Canning as they edged the Air Force Falcons, 4-3. Dave Robertson connected with a triple. Rich Piona hit a long homer with two aboard to account for all of the Air Force scoring.

LoRay's and Brown's Hobby Center tangled in a real donnybrook, with LoRay's emerging the winner, 10-9.

General Office Equipment handed Sports & Games their third one-run defeat in a row by the score of 15-14. Jeff Jones, Jay Murphy and Thor Sweger all hit homers for the winners.

The Air Force Falcons got off the ground to score their second win, when they downed the Kiwanis 14-2. Rich Piona and Kenny Erickson limited the opposition to the two scant runs. Wally Judd homered for the Falcons. Tom Hancock and Ned Rowley contributed singles. Kern Trembath, Kiwanis shortstop, made several nice stops.

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE
Diablo Cleaners retained their winning ways and thus remained the dominant factor in the league. However, it took some doing on Diablo's part to finally subdue an aroused WCYAA team, 12-10. Dave Coleman was on the mound for Diablo. Ken King with a triple, Bill Norman with a triple, and Doug Flaner with a double paced the Diablo attack.

McDonnell Nursery retained second spot as they downed Norm Robinson Chevron, 9-3. Norm Read, the winning pitcher limited the opposing batters to two hits. Derran Kirby, shortstop, and Al Valencia, right field, made several fine defensive plays for McDonnell's.

OPTIMIST LEAGUE
The Cubs stretched their lead to two full games by defeating the third place Dodgers, 8-3, for their seventh win in a row.

Bob Loe went the distance for the Cubs, hurling no-hit ball for the first four innings as the Cubs rolled up a 5-0 lead.

For the third straight game, Cub centerfielder Dennis Johnston collected three hits to raise his batting average to an even .500. Tim McClintock had two more of the Cubs' 10 hits. Tom Lindberg's single drove in two runs for the Dodgers.

In other league games last week, the Cardinals evened their record nipping the Braves, 2-1, and the Pirates forfeited to the Braves, 9-0.

WESTERN LEAGUE
Burton's Oakgrove Nursery belted out a 20-10 win over the Bullets to retain their first place standing. Trailing 8-0 in the second inning, Burton put together a 17-run inning in the fourth to put them beyond the reach of the Bullets.

Tommy Allen with four hits,

Rose and Lynn Are Pacific Tennis Champs

Gary Rose and Lynne Abbes, both of Orinda, were the winners in their respective divisions in the finals of the Pacific Coast Junior Tennis Championships last Saturday in Berkeley.

Rose flashed to a straight set 6-2, 6-4 victory over Dean Pendero of Stockton to win in the boys' 18 division.

Miss Abbes easily defeated Kris Stewart, 6-0, 6-2 for the girls' 14 title. She was upset in her bid for the girls' 16 title by Rosemary Casales of San Francisco, 6-4, 6-4.

Rose was earlier named to the first junior tennis team that will represent Northern California in eastern tournaments this summer. Rose led the Miramonte High School tennis team to the Foothill League title.

THE NATIONAL LEAGUE
Russ Barber Shop started the week off winning a wild and woolly affair from Photo Center, 19-14. Andy Pratt pitched the win. Pete Winslow had a couple of safeties and Dana Johnson had two key hits in the contest for the winners.

Jack & Bob's Meats downed Schroder's Insurance, 22-4, when Schroder's throwers had trouble finding the plate.

Broadway Shopping Center downed a scrappy WCYAA club, 7-6.

Then in a crucial, Jack and Bob's Meats tangled with Russ Barber Shop, with Jack and Ken King picking up the win, 8-5, and moving into a first place tie with the Barbers.

Neil Swanson had 13 strikeouts and gave up but five hits for the winners. However, the turning point in the game came in the fifth inning when Mike Sahlin made a terrific stop at second base on a ball labeled base hit. Sahlin also contributed some very timely hitting.

Many Records Broken In Aquabear Swim Meet

The first annual Aquabear placed in the finals: Swim Meet held Saturday and Sunday at the Naval Air Station 50-yard indoor pool in Alameda saw one American, 15 National and eight Pacific Association AAU Age Group records broken.

Forty Northern California AAU swimmers entered over 600 swimmers in the two-day competition. Winners of both boys and girls high point trophies were the Aquabears, host team. Dick Jacobberger also took home the boys' 15-17 year old trophy by winning four first places and one second. He set new national records in both the 100-yard free style and butterfly.

The outstanding performances of the meet saw the Aquabears 15-17 year old relay teams set two national and one American record. The girls' team consisting of Susie Barkley, Orinda; Donna Salet, Moraga; Marilee Rocca, Lafayette, and Mary Jacoby of Berkeley swam the 400-yard medley relay in the time of 4:40.8, setting an American record for the event.

Swimming for the boys, who set national records in both the 400-yard freestyle and medley relays, were Duke Gibbs and Bob Kammeier of Orinda; Jacobberger, Charles Schillinsky and John Selmer of Berkeley. Schillinsky also won the 400-yard freestyle.

Bob Strand, swimming for the Walnut Hills club, scored in five events, winning the 200-yard individual medley race in 2:13.1, a new Pacific Association record.

Meet director was Jack Barkley, Orinda. Other officials were Tom Traumer, Alamo; Dr. Frank Schnugg, Charles Gibbs, Bob Moore, Orinda, and Dr. and Mrs. John Boulware of Moraga.

High point trophies and medals were donated by the following local organizations: Sports Unlimited, Orinda Hardware, Massie and Underwood, Casa Orinda, Charles Drugs, Moraga; Campana Music and Sutton's Shoes of Lafayette; York and Co. Bay Area investment firm, and Golden West Savings and Loan of Oakland.

Other local swimmers who and Denny Tierney with three hits including a triple, led the Burton attack. Rich Stephens with assistance from Tierney handled the pitching.

Earlier, the other contender, Walnut Bowl, suffered a setback to its pennant aspirations when they were held to a tie by Marshall Realtors. Norm Bowen of Marshall's served up a one-hitter. Frank Jason and Roy Jordan handled the hurling chores for Walnut Bowl.

Marshall Realtor then feeling their muscle, came back to down Simon's, 8-4. Norm Bowen was again the victorious pitcher. Eric Sweger with two hits, and Dave Allasia with a tremendous homer that cleared the fence, led the attack. Billy Odell pitched well in the losing cause for Simon's.

AMERICAN LEAGUE
The WCYAA moved out to a two-game lead as they downed the Central Firemen, 4-1.

The Colts picked up two wins during the week, defeating Kavert Plumbing 6-2 and Costello Laundry 9-6. Earlier, the Central Firemen had taken the measure of the Costello Laundry, 7-2.

OPTIMIST LEAGUE
The Cubs stretched their lead to two full games by defeating the third place Dodgers, 8-3, for their seventh win in a row.

Bob Loe went the distance for the Cubs, hurling no-hit ball for the first four innings as the Cubs rolled up a 5-0 lead.

For the third straight game, Cub centerfielder Dennis Johnston collected three hits to raise his batting average to an even .500. Tim McClintock had two more of the Cubs' 10 hits. Tom Lindberg's single drove in two runs for the Dodgers.

Two No-Hitters In Lafayette

Play in the Lafayette Youth Association baseball action was highlighted by several sterling performances during the past week.

No less than two perfect no-hit no-run performances went into the record books during the week.

Steve Fink of the Campana Music entry in the Majors faced only 18 men in the six inning contest that saw Campana win 7-0 over Lafayette Dime and Dollar.

Doug Snelgrove likewise faced only 18 men as he spun his no-hit game in hurling his Lafayette Toyland team to a 10-0 verdict over Berkeley Farms.

Other action saw Sports & Games retain first spot in the Majors. Rheem Center and Gaston's respectively lead the Minors, American and National divisions.

Reserve Rescue Units Are Kept 'On Toes'

Reserve rescue units are being kept "on their toes" as the result of special practice exercises held during the past month under the direction of Sheriff Walter F. Young. The marine (boat and skin divers), air squadron, and patrol reserves combined their efforts in a search and body recovery an field to search pre-assigned quadrants in the Delta Area. Four aircraft with pilot and rants marked out by air-sea rescue service of the Air Force for use throughout the United States.)

Two boats started from Orwood Resort to search the waterways and levees. The patrol reserves of the Oakley sub-station stood by at Orwood Resort to proceed to the problem when located, confirm it, assume command of the body recovery operations, simulate the taking of necessary reports.

It is unwise to pay too much!

... but it is worse to pay too little, when you pay too much you lose a little money—that's all, but when you pay too little, you sometimes lose everything, because the thing you bought is incapable of doing the thing it was bought to do. The common law of business prohibits paying a little, and getting a lot. It can't be done. If you deal with the lowest bidder, it is well to add something for the risk you run, and if you can do that, you have enough to buy QUALITY.

Let us say to you. We try to carry merchandise and sell it at the lowest prices possible and still maintain Quality.

New Insurance Law Gives Buyer Break

A new law providing for a "10-day free look" at health and accident insurance policies issued after July 1, went into effect this week, announced Governor Brown.
The law providing for a 10-day policy examination was passed at the 1961 session of the legislature. Assemblyman Ronald Brooks Cameron (Dem., Pico Rivera) introduced the bill, AB 2380.
"This is another step in our efforts to help California citizens make better decisions in important purchases," the governor said. "The law gives insurance buyers an opportunity to evaluate the coverage of their policies and make sure they are getting the protection they paid for."
Under the new law, health and accident insurance policies or contracts issued to individuals not under group plans must carry a notice that the buyer can return the policy within 10 days of its delivery if he is not satisfied for any reason, and that any premiums he paid must be refunded to him in full.
The law does not apply to single nonrenewable policies. "The notice must be attached to or printed in the policy itself," the governor said. "Containing the information in a so-called 'welcoming letter' accompanying the policy will not be considered sufficient."
The "10-day free look" law applies only to health and accident policies issued to persons buying coverage individually and not through group plans. It will be in effect on policies issued on or after July 1. Policies or contracts issued by non-profit hospital service corporations or medical service corporations are affected by the law as well as those issued by insurance companies.

George Gordon President of College Board

Governing board of the Contra Costa Junior College District Monday night elected George R. Gordon, Martinez attorney, as its new president for 1962-63.
It is the fourth time that Gordon, an original member since district formation in 1948, will serve as chairman.
William J. Kretzmer, Richmond attorney, relinquished the chair and was elected vice-president when Trustee Glenn L. Clemetson, Richmond banker, declined the post and any others, as did his colleague, Fred L. Abbott of Brentwood.
Under the board's informal rotation policy Clemetson normally would have advanced from secretary to vice-president, and Abbott to the secretaryship. With Clemetson and Abbott declining office, Harmon K. Howard of Walnut Creek, now completing his first year on the board, was elected secretary.
The next two meetings of the board, both largely dealing with the 1962-63 budget, will be held in the district administration office in Martinez.
On July 16 the board will adopt a publication budget in conjunction with a regular meeting, and on August 6 it will adopt the official budget after conducting a public hearing on the document.

Trio Caught Defacing School With Red Paint

Three youthful vandals landed in Contra Costa Juvenile Hall last week after using a can of red paint on the walls of Charlotte Wood Elementary School, Hartz Avenue and Laurel Street in Danville.
Deputy Sheriff Samuel Ginsburg said the three boys, two of them brothers 13 and 14, and a 13-year-old companion stole a can of red paint from a Danville variety store and used it to write obscenities in huge letters across the outside of the school.
The youths were apprehended by Principal R. F. Keefe and Constable Allen Rhodes. Amount of damage to the school could not immediately be determined.

50-Million Man Hours Slated by Transit Plan

Construction of the Bay Area's rapid transit system will be one of the largest projects ever carried out in the western United States.

It will require 50 million man hours of labor over and 8½-year construction period, consulting engineers for the Bay Area Rapid Transit District said today.

They said the project will create employment for an average of 3,000 persons annually, with a peak labor force of 8,000 for periods of several months.

The construction estimates were prepared by Parsons Brinckerhoff-Tudor-Bechtel, the joint consulting firms employed by the district to plan the proposed 75-mile rail rapid transit system.

AUTHORIZATION of the project will rest on approval of a $792-million bond issue at the November 6 General Election.

In comparing the transit construction with previous projects carried out in this region, the engineering consultants said it will require more steel than was used in the Bay and Golden Gate Bridges combined—310,000 tons. (The two spans required a total of 267,000 tons.)

Other material volumes required for the transit construction will include:

2,400,000 cubic yards of concrete,
3,500,000 barrels of cement,
90,000,000 board feet of lumber,
23,000,000 cubic yards of earthwork and dredging.

In addition, the consultants said, the project will require the purchase of approximately $60 million worth of electrical materials and equipment.

SEVERAL HUNDRED firms, they explained, probably will be involved in the entire 8½-year construction project, all chosen through competitive bidding.

BARTD General Manager John M. Pierce said the construction estimates illustrate the "tremendous impact" the project will have on the economy of the entire Bay Area over a period of several years.

"When the system is completed," he noted, "it also will create permanent employment for many additional hundreds of residents."

County Opening For Therapists

Contra Costa County is recruiting occupational therapists for its hospital and health department programs to assist persons who are handicapped or disabled through illness or accident.

Occupational therapists assist patients to regain skills necessary for daily living. New therapists work at the county's 500-bed hospital, at Shadelands School in Concord, or at Cameron School in El Cerrito.

The recommended salary effective July 1 is $481 per month with merit increases to $584, and includes liberal vacation, sick leave, retirement and insurance benefits.

These jobs require completion of a recognized course in occupational therapy, and a certificate of registration with the National Registry of Qualified Occupational Therapists or eligibility for registration.

Applications will be accepted through Friday, July 6, 1962, and can be obtained from: Contra Costa County Civil Service Department, Box 710, Martinez.

Marine Privates Finish Training

Pvt. Donald J. Moore, USMC, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Moore of 1731 First Avenue, Walnut Creek, and Pvt. David H. Selvy, USMC, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold L. Selvy of 321 Bancroft Road, Walnut Creek, have completed four weeks of individual combat training with the Second Infantry Training Regiment at the Marine Corps Base, Camp Pendleton.

The training, required of each marine completing recruit training, emphasizes tactical matters and field and combat skills needed by the fighting marine.

Airport Job Gets Low Bid By Concord Firm

Supervisor Mel Nielsen, chairman, and Edmund Linscheid, member of the Board of Supervisors Public Property Committee, announced today that Martin Brothers of Concord who submitted a bid of $168,037, was the lowest bidder of the five bids received of a contract for the extension of the terminal apron and construction of Taxiway "G" at Buchanan Field Airport.

The award of the contract has been deferred to July 10 or 17, pending a review of bids and receipt of a grant agreement from the Federal Aviation Agency for federal participation which will be approximately 54 per cent of the construction cost.

The lowest bid, as noted above, was based on the entire project but the award of the contract will be based on final selection of alternate proposals.

The major items of work to be done consist of constructing a 1370 lineal feet southerly extension of the terminal apron which includes tie-down anchors and cables and a 750 lineal feet connecting taxiway.

A storm drainage system to be installed consists of approximately 2800 lineal feet of reinforced concrete pipe. This project, together with the recently completed control tower and the utility building, will provide centralized service facilities for the flying public.

Increased activity in air traffic coupled with an intensified interest by commercial developers has created needs for additional safety and tie-down facilities at this airport, the supervisors said.

Recent negotiations for additional construction by "Fixed Base Operators" and continuing negotiations for additional "T" hangar construction testify to the increasing importance of Buchanan Field.

Teenagers Get On-Job Chance For Experience

Dozens of teenagers in Contra Costa County are gaining "on-the-job" experience in community service this summer. Already busy in libraries, hospitals, day camps, and playgrounds are members of the Volunteer Bureau's Teen-Team who are volunteering their spare time.

"These young people realize that volunteer job experience is often the answer in gaining know-how for paying jobs and exploring career possibilities," says Mrs. John Selley, president of the Volunteer Bureau.

Information may be obtained from the Volunteer Bureau, 2030 North Main Street, Walnut Creek.

Art Show Is Fair Feature

Visitors to the Contra Costa County Fair, to be held on August 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 at the fair grounds at Antioch will be able to cast their vote and appreciation for the area's promising artists.

A feature of the annual fair will be the art show, which gives the local artists an opportunity to exhibit their handiwork and skill to the many thousands attending our fair.

Chairman of exhibits for the 1962 Art Show is Mrs. Norma Martinetti, of Pittsburg, who is also a member of the Delta Art Association. Mrs. Virginia Callesesi and Kay DeHart are assisting on the large committee jobs.

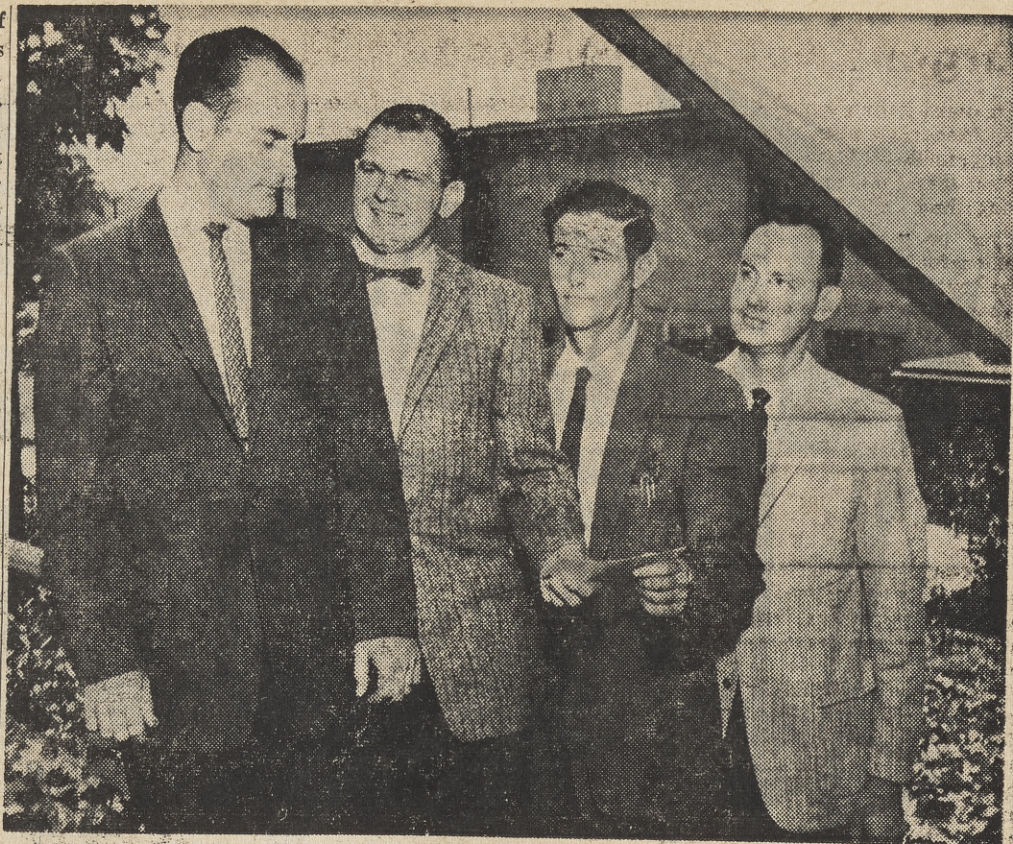

ARTISTS WHO work in any medium of watercolor, ceramic, oil, sculpture, mosaics, decorative arts, sandcasting, etc., are invited to exhibit their works in this year's biggest art show.

Invitations have been extended to all amateur artists in the county, regardless of age, and since entry is without charge a large number of paintings are expected. Children under age 12 are encouraged to participate, as are the students from the various high schools in the county.

Rules of entry are very simple and artists working in landscapes, seascapes, county scenes, portraits, still life, ceramics, sculptures, sandcasting, metal work, abstracts, are invited to contact Mrs. Martinetti or the fair office, P.O. Box 25, Antioch, before closing date of entries, July 18. Prize ribbons will be awarded along with premiums for the best of each division.

All entries will be received at the county fairgrounds, on Sunday, July 29, from 1 to 5 p.m., and on Tuesday, July 31, from 1 to 6:30 p.m. One may be submitted in each of four sections, but not more than four works may be entered by any one exhibitor.

Further explanation of rules and regulations applying to the art show will be given by calling at the County Fair offices.

Larger Print Being Used In Special Library Books

Are stairs getting steeper? Do your friends mumble? Is print getting smaller? If the answer is yes, then the years may be taking their toll.

Your public library has no solution for the first two problems, but a new Contra Costa County Library program is offered to people frustrated by small print.

Four thousand new copies of books printed in large, clear type are now available in the Central Pleasant Hill Library and in the 23 branch and station libraries including the two bookmobiles in the county library system.

They have been prepared with book jacket inserts bearing a border of the letters "lp" for easy identification as large print books.

Through provisions of the Community Services Project for Older Persons Act passed by the 1961 Legislature the county library has obtained a grant of state funds to defray half the cost of this program approved by the State Department of Social Welfare and the Board of Supervisors.

MRS. MARIAM Garner, former Walnut Creek branch librarian who retired in 1959 from full-time employment, has been appointed by County Librarian

Mrs. Bertha D. Hellum to coordinate the project as an integrated activity of the readers services division.

Selections of large print editions were made from all fields of literature, planned to appeal to individuals of all degrees of background and interest levels regardless of age.

and for more than a few of us may renew our pleasure in the companionship of books," Mrs. Garner said.

The Sun

these books, is available free, sons, to Senior Citizen groups, The cover was designed by Mrs. Joy Swain, Crockett librarian.

Copies of the list have been placed in all the libraries and have been sent to nursing and boarding homes for older persons, to Senior Citizen groups, and to various civic agencies. Members of the "Friendly Visitors Service" have volunteered to deliver and return library books for elderly readers unable to visit libraries.

Highway Patrol Launches Drive On 'Slow Pokes'

California Highway Patrol will accelerate its enforcement emphasis against motorists who impede traffic by driving too slowly in the left hand lane of multi-lane highways.

Commissioner Bradford M. Crittenden said the campaign is in response to a legislative resolution passed during the 1962 session which states that failure to observe the law which requires slower moving vehicles to keep right "constitutes a major contribution to the high death toll and ever increasing accident rate."

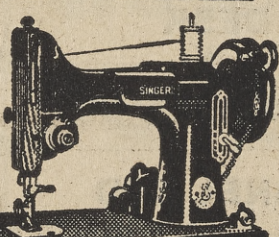

The resolution also directed the patrol to take the necessary steps to ensure enforcement.

"The law provides that vehicles moving slower than the normal flow of traffic shall be driven in the right-hand lane or as close to the right-hand edge of the road as practicable, except when passing other vehicles, or in preparing to make a left turn," the commissioner said.

"Thus at any speed short of 65 mph maximum limit, you should not cruise in the left-hand lane if other vehicles are moving faster than your car."

County Opens Annual Battle Against Rats

Annual war against the rodent population of Contra Costa County has begun, according to an announcement released by the County Department of Agriculture and the County Health Department.

The control program includes poison bait in creek beds where rats and other rodents live, but does not include control measures on private property.

Residents who have a rodent problem on their property can receive advice by calling either of the following numbers. Contact the Department of Agriculture at MUlberry 2-7550, or the Health Department at ACademy 3-3000, Extension 531.

Many pest control companies will contract to do rodent control work on private property.

One man is lying quietly in bed; another is exercising. Which man's heart is working harder? If you say the active man, you may be wrong.

A good deal depends on the temperature and environment. Hot and humid weather can make your heart work harder even if you are lying down.

This is one reason why people with heart disease should be particularly cautious in summer time, according to the Contra Costa County Heart Association.

YOUR HEART and blood play an important part in "thermal regulation" which helps keep you warm in cold weather and cool in hot weather. Because the body's built-in thermostat machinery takes time to adjust to weather extremes, you should be careful about jumping from one extreme to the other. Make the change gradually, if possible.

If you find yourself caught in a sudden change, try to rest before becoming active. This will give your body time to adjust to the different weather environment.

Because heat and humidity can be hard on the heart, many doctors recommend that their patients get an air-conditioner in their homes to keep the air comfortably cool and dry.

But whether or not you have heart trouble, it's good to remember that the weather as well as exercise can increase the work-load of the heart. The sports you may do comfortably in cool weather may be too strenuous on a hot humid day.

Since your heart must supply not only to the working muscles but also to aid the cooling processes of your body.

HERE ARE some suggestions from the Contra Costa County Heart Association for staying cool and healthy during the summer:

Try to "think cool" so that your mental attitude doesn't add to your body temperature.

Try not to keep talking and complaining about the heat. Forget it if you can.

Every now and again, run cool water over the inside of your wrists.

Wear loose-fitting, light-colored clothes over absorbent undergarments.

Bathe frequently. Some people find that talcum powder or cologne after a shower makes them feel cooler for a longer time.

"Be careful about your diet. Good nutrition is as important in summer as in the winter but you'll want different foods.

Water District Installs Telemetry System

Advances in electronics and automation will help maintain an adequate water supply and dependable pressure for water users served by the Treated Water Division of Contra Costa County Water District beginning this week.

Treated Water Division Manager Robert W. Johnston announced that a telemetry system was put into operation for central control of the pumps that keep up the water levels in reservoirs scattered throughout the TWD service area.

The telemetry system allows a single operator at the main Galindo pumping station to handle 10 subsidiary pump stations in Concord and Walnut Creek.

Johnston said this will allow 24-hour control over the water level in the TWD reservoirs instead of only eight-hour control which was normal before the telemetry system was installed.

He added that it would end overtime personnel costs formerly involved in checking the reservoirs during periods of peak demand. The TWD expects the system to pay for itself over a short period of time.

Local Jehovah Witnesses Meet

Lloyd V. Larey, presiding minister of Jehovah's Witnesses, announced today that the Walnut Creek congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses has been invited to attend a three-day convention to be held July 13-15 at the Oakland Auditorium. Larey will head the local delegation of about 100 persons.

Food Poisoning Warning Given by Health Doctor

Food poisoning can spoil many outings and vacations this summer, warned Dr. John Baier, assistant county health officer. Health authorities estimate there are as many as 1,000,000 cases of preventable food poisoning each year in the United States.

The California State Department of Health reports 2650 cases annually in this state alone. Although food poisoning is usually not serious and seldom fatal, it can result in highly distressing illnesses, especially when entire families are involved.

The most frequent cause of food poisoning is failure to keep foods properly refrigerated in warm weather, Dr. Baier said. This applies to cooked as well as uncooked foods. Outbreaks have been resulted from placing cooked chickens on tables previously used for uncooked chickens.

FOR EXAMPLE, at a large company annual picnic in Indiana during August, 1959, the lunch included baked ham sandwiches. After the ham was cooked it was allowed to remain unrefrigerated for some time before serving.

At the height of the picnic about 1000 of the 1700 picnickers were stricken with abdominal cramps, nausea, vomiting and diarrhea. The two hospitals in the area were quickly swamped and a local armory and high school were put into emergency service.

Carport Space For Tack Room

One family with a set of young horse lovers has solved the problem of where to build their tack room.

A compact tack room large enough for saddle racks and other horse gear, and also large enough for a small leather workshop where harness and saddle

United States Public Health Service scientists have shown that bacteria commonly causing food poisoning will grow and multiply in foods at temperatures as low as 42° F. Perishable foods should therefore be stored at no higher than 40° F.

In addition to poultry and meat, particularly processed meats, foods most commonly affected are fish, custards and cream-filled pastries.

Dr. Baier added, the best way to insure your picnic or outing will be a pleasant one is to keep hot foods hot and cold foods cold.

and bridles can be properly cared for, has been built into a storage unit along one side of a carport.

This is an exciting way to get space for a tack room, and where there is no basement or room for a small separate tack room this storage unit serves ideally.

In planning such a storage unit, care should be taken that it is slightly larger than would normally be needed, probably 30 inches deep. It should be tight to keep out rodents but ventilated with small metal louvers. It should be locked.

This family used western red cedar 1x4 tongue-and-groove lumber for the entire unit, with 2x4 fir framing. The doors were made of the cedar boards and were arranged so they could be opened without bumping cars in the carport.

More Visitor Volunteers Needed to Meet Requests

"NEEDED: A volunteer to visit an elderly man in Pleasant Hill who has been waiting futilely for company since March. . . . A Portuguese-speaking lady to chat with a lonely and silent grandmother in the County Hospital. . . . A corps of kind neighbors to drop in on forgotten folk in aged boarding homes in Martinez and Pittsburg."

The above are direct requests received by the Friendly Visitor Volunteer Service in Lafayette in the past week—requests the newly-organized agency is hard-pressed to fill with its present small roster of trained visitors.

The agency, a co-operative organization of four United Crusade services with the Council of Churches and the County Social Service Department, was formed last Fall to rally volunteers in Contra Costa County who are able to give an hour a week to call at nursing and boarding homes.

Some 30 women and a handful of men responded to the call and attended the training course to gain professional understanding of problems faced by homebound oldersters.

AS WORD of the program has extended to private and public facilities caring for the aged, requests are increasing, and additional visitors are sorely needed to meet the appeals, according to Mrs. Jane McClelland, executive director of the agency.

Reports of the volunteer visitors themselves indicate the critical, and oft-times pitiful, need.

As Mrs. Paul Gottschall of 1386 Grove Way, Concord, one of the founding group of Visitors, put it: "Mrs. S. (a county hospital patient) shed a few tears and said I was the only one who remembers her. . . . It gives one a good feeling to know you bring a little ray of sunshine into the life of one apparently forgotten."

Mrs. Daniel Soria of 3331 South Lucille Lane, Lafayette, reported she found "her" patient so lonely and so tired she said she wanted to die. "She said she had no family, and many times begged: 'Please don't forget to come back next week!'" Mrs. Soria reported.

In order to fill incoming requests, another training course will be given on Monday evenings, July 2 and 9, at the Red Cross building, 2121 Ygnacio Road, Walnut Creek, conducted by Mrs. Marion Amos of 818

Cumberland Drive, Pleasant Hill, and Dr. Sarah Malin, 207 Crest View Drive, Orinda. If demand is sufficient, the course also will be held in the mornings to accommodate volunteers unable to attend evening sessions, Mrs. McClelland said. Details may be obtained by writing or phoning the Friendly Visitor Volunteer Service, 3184 Old Tunnel Road, Lafayette, YE 5-0921.

Robert Cory Named To Dean's List

Robert Cory, a freshman, was one of 84 science and engineering students who maintained a grade-point average of 3.0 at Harvey Mudd College last semester.

The students represent 40 per cent of the science and engineering enrollment.

District Gives Annexation to ERMUD Okay

Walnut County Water District residents overwhelmingly voted in favor of annexation to the East Bay Municipal Utility District at a special election held recently. The vote was 293 in favor, 3 opposed.

Only polling place for the balloting was the home of Ferris A. Farnsworth at 51 Greenway Drive. Farnsworth is president of the Walnut district board of directors.

The district is outside the Walnut Creek city limits and not involved in the "five splinter" zones currently petitioning for EBMUD annexation. Most of it has been served by the treated water division of the Contra Costa Water District.

Nearly everyone reads The Sun.

Chamber Asks Aid in Planning 1962-63 Year

A "program-of-work" questionnaire, to be returned July 2, was recently distributed to members by the Walnut Creek Chamber of Commerce.

Members are being asked to submit their suggestions for projects and activities to be taken up by the chamber during the 1962-63 year.

Included with the questionnaire was a review of ideas submitted at the recent "town hall" type meeting of the chamber membership.

Offstreet parking development, parking including commuter-employee-employer areas, extension of central business district streets for better access, long-range development program for light industry, rehabilitation program for North Main Street, and city annexation support were projects receiving the most discussion at the meeting.

$10,000 Awarded by Office of Civil Defense

From among numerous applicants in the Bay Area, John Muir Memorial Hospital has been awarded $10,000 to incorporate design of community fallout shelter facilities in building plans.

Hospital Administrator Raymond F. Farwell has been notified of the grant by John Upsher Smith, acting regional director of the Office of Civil Defense.

The $10,000 is for shelter design, Farwell explains, with the actual construction allotment not yet appropriated by Congress.

THE PILOT shelter would be of steel and reinforced concrete construction, would be below ground level and would be incorporated as a usable part of the hospital when in operation.

A new pledge of $30,310 for specified hospital equipment has been made by the 350-member John Muir Memorial Hospital Auxiliary, whose president is Mrs. Harold Bates of Moraga.

A nursery examination room, formula room, bassinets, formula refrigerator, bottle warmer, bottle washer, two Isolettes, four receiving bassinets and two incubators are included in the goal.

The auxiliary's 12 guilds plan to raise the total amount as soon as possible, Mrs. Bates says.

ARCHITECTS and engineers are developing the complex working drawings and specifications within Hill-Burton "time table" deadlines.

Final plans will be submitted for Bureau of Hospitals approval on or before November 15, and released for bidding by January 17, 1963, with construction to begin a few weeks later.

Working along with the architectural firm of Confer and Anderson are members of the hospital building committee, headed by David Zuckerman, who also is vice president of the board of trustees.

The committee includes Ivan Chappell, Irving Fine, M.D.; Frederick M. Hanson, M.D.; John Kaufman, M.D.; Alan Ory, M.D.; John Osmundsen, Harold Robinson, M.D.; Dudley Robnett, M.D.; Donald Sterns, M.D., and H. V. Worthington.

MEANWHILE THE hospital structure, recently redesigned with seven floors for maximum advantages both in construction economy and operating efficiency on recommendation of the Bureau of Hospitals, comes before the Walnut Creek City Council for final approval on July 5.

Future expansion is to be made laterally, as an additional wing, rather than upward.

The non-profit hospital, which will serve the entire mid-county community with 24-hour emergency service, is to be built initially with 150 beds.

ON THE basis of this week's union contract settlements in the construction industry, it is tentatively estimated that costs of building John Muir Memorial Hospital may be increased by $70,000 to $100,000 over the originally projected $4,018,000 figure.

Its 10-acre site on Ygnacio Valley Road is quickly accessible over main thoroughfares from all directions.

Concern about additional contributions necessary to cover rising costs and to furnish a good base of operating capital when the hospital opens is expressed by Alfred B. Layton of Diablo, chairman of the hospital board of trustees, and DeWitt Krueger, finance committee chairman.

Of total hospital financing arranged, $2,482,174 (61.7 per cent) is an outright grant to the community of Hill-Burton Act funds, in equal amounts from the state and federal governments.

The qualifying balance includes a long-term loan of more than $1,000,000. Relatively small is the community contribution to date of outright donations and pledges, upon payment of which total financing is contingent.

TAX DEDUCTIBLE pledges to the hospital building fund, payable by December, 1963, are being accepted at John Muir Memorial Hospital Headquarters, 1361 Locust Street, Walnut Creek.

A Great Week For Gardening

The California Association of Nurserymen recommend that gardeners do the following this week:

1. Set out the elosia, dwarf dahlia, zinnia, marigold and several other bedding plants for quick color.
2. Stake and tie tomato plants to keep them from sprawling on the ground.
3. Water lawns deeply. Avoid hand sprinkling as you seldom hold the hose long enough to get water down where it belongs.
4. Feed azaleas, camellias and rhododendrons with an acid plant food. They should have three or four applications between bloom time and fall.
5. Plant container grown roses for ready-made color when you need it.

Nugent Completes Training Course

W. Roger Nugent, 937 Moraga Road, Lafayette, has been awarded a diploma from Vale Technical Institute at Blairsville, Pennsylvania.

Nugent, claim representative for State Farm Mutual Automobile Insurance Company in Walnut Creek, has just returned from a three weeks' advanced training course in auto damage estimating and repair techniques at the institute.

He is one of 800 State Farm men who will complete the course this year.

The secret of success is constancy to purpose.

Scout Troop 204 In High Sierras

Members of Lafayette Scout Troop 204 are currently in the high Sierra Country on their annual summer hike, it was reported this week.

A total of 32 scouts, three dads, Scoutmaster Clifford and Assistant Scoutmaster Warren Petersen are on this traditional mountain trek which started last Saturday from Tuolumne Meadows in Yosemite National Park, and will terminate at White Wolf, also in Yosemite Park.

In altitudes of 7000 to 11,000 feet, the scouts are covering over 60 miles, stopping at several mountain lakes enroute to fish and camp.

ONE OF the highlights of the rugged trip is the airdrop of fresh food and mail from home at Smedberg Lake midway on the trek.

Ron Nelson Is Given Higher Disaster Post

Will H. Perry Jr., director of the Contra Costa County Disaster Office, today announced the appointment of R. E. (Ron) Nelson to the new position of assistant director.

The assistant director's position was created by the board of supervisors last December to enable the Disaster Office to provide a level of service before and during a disaster commensurate to the ever growing population of the county.

In addition, the stronger federal emphasis on the entire civil defense program requires an increase in the capabilities of local jurisdictions to carry out the federal, state and county programs.

RON JOINED the staff of the County Disaster Office as a Civil Defense coordinator on October 1, 1956, to work primarily with the medical and health service. Since that time his duties have been broadened to include civil defense and disaster planning and operations and general administrative responsibilities.

Born in Minneapolis, Minnesota, he came to California by way of Denver, and graduated from the University High School in West Los Angeles. Later while in Washington, D.C., he attended George Washington University and recently received the A.A. degree from Diablo Valley College.

Ron served 20 years in the medical department of the U.S. Navy with tours of duty in the South Pacific; at Pearl Harbor where he was first introduced to the civil defense aspects of defense planning; in Washington, D.C., where he administered a course in atomic medicine in radiological defense.

From Washington, Ron, and Mrs. Nelson, went to Brazil for 2½ years as a Navy Medical Department representative.

Lavender Takes Gardener Down Memory Lane Walk

There's no doubt that certain plants have the capacity for taking you back in time to some season of your past. You see or smell them and the years drop away in a wonderful surge of nearly-forgotten memories.

One shrub that triggers such a reaction for many people is the lavender. It has an old-fashioned, unimproved look about it that is firmly anchored in time. And the unchanging, wonderful smell — there's really nothing quite like it in all the garden world and never has been.

LAVENDER IS not something that needs resurrecting from some long-neglected garden, however, for it has enjoyed enduring popularity with professional and amateur landscapers alike.

The gray foliage and stiff spikes of bloom adapt easily to modern landscape design, providing interest in their light and dark shadow contrasts as well as in the flower color.

If you would have the delightful company of lavender in your garden, select a place in the sun for it, the sunnier the better. Lavender will grow in shade, but without the warming rays of sun to bake it in summer, the perfume dispensed by the blooms will be less than satisfactory.

Nor is the foliage so attractively gray in shade as it is in the sun.

One plant of lavender in some sunny corner will provide you with enough scented spikes to sew in sachets for the linen drawer and to dry for lasting nosegays or potpourris, but why stop there.

ONE PLANT might fulfill the utilitarian needs, but consider the landscape possibilities of this versatile plant. Lavender can be used to line a walk or drive.

It can be used to fill a front parking strip or to cover a sunbaked, sloping bank, where nothing else seems to thrive. It can be used with rosemary or creeping thyme, both of which adapt to similar conditions and each of which has its own special fragrance to dispense.

THE CALIFORNIA Association of Nurserymen suggests using lavender in the border, too, by spacing plants at various intervals among other perennials and even annuals. It can be used in combination with dusty Miller, basket of gold, alyssum, yellow marguerites, yarrow and verbenas, to name a few suitable combinations.

You don't often find plants which can truly be said to thrive on neglect, but lavender is one that definitely does. In fact it is better off when you neglect it than when you don't. It is better, also, in a poor soil than in a rich one.

Plant it in a rocky, gravelly soil where the unavoidable winter rain runs off quickly and excessive summer watering can be avoided.

OF THE several lavenders in existence, the one that is most desirable by far is the shrubby English lavender, or its dwarfier hybrid, the munstead lavender. These are offered by C.A.N. members almost to the exclusion of other forms, which are of interest primarily to specialists. They both are summer bloomers, reaching their peak of beauty during the very hottest weeks of the year.

The flower spikes may be cut at any time and used in arrangements, dry or otherwise. If the full extent of their lovely perfume is to be enjoyed, however, they should be cut rather late in their bloom season, when the flowers are at their peak and the sun has had its chance to work on them.

CUT LONG spikes then hang them upside down to dry. When thoroughly dried, the flowers may be crushed into a potpourri or sewn in small sachets to keep them from scattering, then used to perfume bureau drawers and linen closets with their lasting fragrance.

Lavenders are durable perennials that live a long life in the garden. They will increase in size as the years pass, which means, of course, that you will enjoy a corresponding increase in their charm and usefulness at the same time.

Your Garden

Durable and Different Is This Duo of Shrubs

Form and texture are the prime features of the bottle brush and Australian tea tree, a decorative shrub duo that can add plenty of interest to your California garden. Both are rigidly patterned in their growth habits, stiffly assuming shapes that are distinctively different from anything else you are apt to find in the plant world.

BOTTLE BRUSHES and tea

trees come to us from the land down under, but each family has undergone considerable change in the hands of plant hybridists here. The result is that members of the California Association of Nurserymen today offer a wide selection of improved strains for garden use.

If you've ever seen red bottle brush in bloom, you couldn't really mistake it for anything else. The bristly blooms, which give the shrub its common name, look as though they could very well be used to wash out bottles. The blossoms are all stamens and completely encompass the stiff stem.

Another excellent ground cover, and one which Californians should avail themselves of more often, is the native Point Reyes ceanothus. This glossy-leaf creeper can be kept to about six inches in height with occasional trimming back of the more erect shoots. In spring, usually in March, it bears lovely lavender-blue flowers, typical of the "wild lilacs."

As a parkway cover, the Point Reyes ceanothus is strictly a happy choice. It shares the family resistance to drought, but at the same time it tolerates more water than other ceanothus. Its deep green, glossy foliage has a clean look about it that the dust of passing traffic seems not to affect. And once it takes over, your weed problems disappear.

POINT REYES ceanothus has an aversion to alkaline soils, and one way to avoid trouble is to be sure the soil is well drained. Addition of leaf mold and/or peat moss at planting time is a CAN recommendation. Extra water during the early stages of growth is, once again, the surest way to guarantee fast covering.

Ivy is the last (but certainly not the least) of the parkway covers we'll mention here. Actually, all parkway problems could be solved by ivy, but it would make for a good many dull neighborhoods if the material were never varied.

EITHER ENGLISH ivy or Algerian ivy is best for parkways, as both of them are fast to cover and easy to maintain. The Algerian ivy comes either green or variegated, so take your choice.

Ivy's willingness to be clipped and pruned severely makes it an ideal parkway cover, for it can always be kept neat and within bounds. If you go after it a couple times each year with clippers, no further care is really needed.

Vacation Care For Garden Takes Planning

If garden plants had their "druthers," there's no doubt they'd "rather" you didn't take a vacation each year.

For however much fun you have on the annual fortnight out of town, the plants you leave behind usually suffer to one degree or another.

To be sure, some people "let the gardener do it" whether they are at home or off in the wilds! For them, the following pre-vacation advice holds little interest.

HOWEVER, MOST people will be taking off and leaving the welfare of their garden to a friend or a boy down the block. The California Association of Nurserymen has a word to the wise for this majority of gardeners.

The one thing we are really concerned about, of course, is water. Given sufficient water, your garden will be just as happy without you as otherwise. True, the lawn will need cutting if you stay away any length of time, but for nine out of 10 vacationers, watering is the prime vacation concern.

According to the C.A.N., you should make this little chore just as easy as possible for whomever is charged with doing it. Leave nothing whatever to chance.

First, move all potted plants into a central area where the interim gardener can reach them without half trying. Begonias, geraniums, fuchsias, azaleas—anything that's grown in a container—will suffer first from lackadaisical care, and you should prepare for the worst.

WITH PLANTS in clay pots, you can go a step further by sinking them in the ground or packing wet peat moss around them. This will give them a reasonable grace period even if they are neglected.

Second, draw up a schedule to leave behind, showing just what needs watering, how often and for how long. Interim gardeners have a way of running the sprinkler for a few minutes and calling it a day. Be specific.

Dramateurs To Play 'Grassharp'

"Fun and excitement are the outlook for theatergoers and dramatists this summer when Truman Capote's 'Grassharp' goes on the boards," according to Phillip Jelley, president of the Dramateurs.

Opening night is July 20, and curtain is as usual, 8:30.

"Plan your vacation return in a summer evening's enjoyment at Lafayette's Town Hall, and phone CL 4-5241 days, and CL 4-4419 evenings after 6 p.m.," said Jelley.

Several evenings are available for sponsors groups for this play, and for "Inherent the Wind," which will open in November.

All interested groups, phone Mrs. Fran von Loben Sels at AT 9-8623 concerning rates and evenings available.

The "Grassharp" will run for six weeks on Friday and Saturday nights. "Join the cast in a midsummer night's fancy free," said Jelley.

At the last meeting of the Dramateurs, a new slate of officers was elected.

Phil Jelley steps into the presidency from last year's post as vice-president.

Wirtabel Harris of Orinda will assume the active duties of vice-president. Betty Gordon will be secretary, and Beth Culp becomes the group's treasurer.

County Hires School Building Plans Director

A new director of school building planning, who will serve the school districts enrolling at least two-thirds of Contra Costa County's school population of 118,000, assumed his duties with the beginning of the new fiscal year today.

Kempton Russell, architect and instructor in architecture, is employed in the office of County Superintendent Floyd Marchus at Pleasant Hill.

Russell fills a position created by the board of supervisors on the recommendation of the Contra Costa County Taxpayers' Association. He will coordinate the building program of all school districts of the county having less than 10,000 average daily attendance, as provided by the California Education Code.

THIS INCLUDES 30 of Contra Costa County's 32 school districts, with a combined attendance of more than 73,000. Richmond City District and Mt. Diablo Unified District, both with more than 10,000 attendance, are not required by law to consult the director of school building planning but may avail themselves of his services if they so desire.

Russell's immediate duties will be to advise school boards and administrators and their architects on the negotiation of contracts and their performance. He will also expedite applications for state building loans and advise on construction.

Trained at the Universities of Kentucky and Oregon, Russell has had experience in various architectural and engineering assignments with Bay Area architectural firms. He was an instructor in architecture at Contra Costa College, San Pablo, last semester.

Oil Industry Workshop Held For Teachers

Educators from 10 Contra Costa school districts participated in the first teachers' workshop about the oil industry last week, according to Dr. Floyd I. Marchus, Contra Costa County superintendent of schools.

Non-technical and technical presentations about the petroleum industry were given to 50 junior college, high school and junior high school teachers of physical sciences, social studies, business education and counseling.

Dr. Marchus pointed out that the information received by the teachers can be used in the courses which they teach and will give them a better understanding of one of the important segments of the area's economy. The workshop was sponsored by Western Oil and Gas Association, the trade association for the petroleum industry on the West Coast.

Selwyn Eddy, vice president of Shell Oil Company, San Francisco, opened the workshop, and Raymond D. McGranahan, president of Wilshire Oil Company of California, gave the concluding talk.

Oil industry operations discussed during the five-day period included exploration, land and leasing, production, manufacturing, transportation, marketing, research, and employee relations. Tours of various oil company facilities were scheduled also.

School districts which were represented include Acalanes Union High School District, Antioch Unified School District, Contra Costa Junior College District, John Swett Union High School District (Crockett), Mar-times School District, Mt. Diablo Unified School District, Pittsburg Unified School District, and Richmond School District.

Explanations of industry operations and activities were given by specialists from participating companies, which included Mobil Oil Company, Richfield Oil Corporation, Shell Oil Company, Standard Oil of California, Texaco Inc., Tidewater Oil Company and Union Oil Company of California.

Coordination and planning was headed by Dr. Francis G. Burke of the county schools office, and James H. Walter of Shell, Ray Dondero, dean of instruction of Contra Costa College, was the project leader.
